The Kinsmen and the Women's Artificial Ice Fund are two Associations to whom great credit is due for their continuing efforts in the welfare of the town. The Ice Fund has raised over $20,000 toward the installation of ice. The Kinsmen, who presented the town's first ambulance, have contributed to the Ice Fund, made great improvements to the beach at Sand Lake, work and assist financially in almost every community endeavor and this year are aiding the curling rink to remain open, one of the few organized winter activities for all ages.

The Recreation Committee set up for the town has sponsored learn-to-swim classes, with buses provided for the children, sponsored summer school for younger children and last summer kept the arena in full swing with tennis, badminton and other games.

Mr. Harness continued that the council are hoping to secure possession of the old postoffice building for use of the library, and in one area maintain a centre for senior citizens. The library contributes much to local recreation and also as a project resource for students although operating on a meagre budget.

During the recent flood Mr. Harness said he was pleased to note that many of those assisting distressed homeowners were Legion members. In closing, Mr. Harness stated the council is most hopeful that the long-delayed sewage project will begin early next year.

Mr. Caccamo thanked Mr. Harness and paid tribute to the many who had assisted in making the Remembrance Day ceremonies so meaningful and successful.

Following the dinner Mrs. Mary Hollinger played for dancing.
