result that delinquency in local credit union is practically nil.

He also drew attention to change in policy regarding the waiving of interest: "Any member with an outstanding loan, out of work for a period of 90 days or more due to illness, may apply in writing to the board of directors for relief or consideration in waiving or reducing accrued interest on such a loan."

The following recommendations regarding distribution of earnings proposed by board were adopted as read.

-That we place 20 per cent of the new profit to the guarantee fund.

-That we pay six per cent dividend on shares on minimum monthly basis.

-That we give an interest rebate of six per cent to all borrowers in good standing.

-That the balance be placed in undivided earnings to be used at the discretion of the board.

W. G. Furlonger presented report of credit committee with A. V. Pearson, annual financial statement; L. R. Tremblay, supervisory committee report and Wayne Wilson, delinquency committee report.

Mr. Claypole and Mr. Zubick, speaking briefly, congratulated the Schreiber organization on its sound financial position and said they particularly appreciated the healthy interest shown by members in the spirited exchange of opinions on several matters.

Apathy, on members' part, they agreed, can ruin the best association formed. Both were delighted with almost nil delinquency position.

Mr. Patterson congratulated members on their 20 years of success and added that after study of the history of the Credit Union in Canada, he was impressed with its record of service.

It is an expression of a high social idea, giving the individual a personal involvement and understanding of financial matters, he said. He also paid tribute to the present officers and many others through the union's 20-year history whose wisdom in filling their position has kept the association not only sound financially but maintained the members' close interest and somehow were also able to successfully arrange social evenings.

Following the business meeting a cabaret evening with lunch was served.
