

KENT-MOORE VOWS EXCHANGED

Pink and white carnations graced the Chancel with white mums on the Altar of the Community Church, when Cheryl Ann Moore and David George Kent exchanged their wedding vows in a Candlelight service on January 2, at 5.30 p.m.

Rev. A. Chabat performed the double ring ceremony.

Cheryl is the only daughter of Mrs. John Rapchan, and David is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kent, of Peterborough.

Escorted up the aisle by her brother Michael Moore, the bride was given in marriage by her mother. She was gowned in white Polyester cripe, featuring the Empire waist line, high neck, with a deep inverted pleat in the back falling softly from the high waist into a train. Princess lines were accented by nylon rose applique down the front and back and around the train. Her shoulder length veil was of bouffant tiered illusion net, held in place by an iridescent flower spray.

She carried a Cascade bouquet of pink carnations. Miss Judy McInnes was the maid of Honour, Mrs. Joanne Moore, Matron of Honour, and the grooms' sister, Janice Kent was Bridesmaid. They were gowned alike in Burgundy silk velvet, floor length and sleeveless, fashioned like the brides dress with the inverted pleat in the back, accented by a self bow at the waist. They wore long white gloves, and pink rose buds in their hair and carried a giant white mum in a nosegay, with pink satin streamers.

The best man was the grooms' brother, Alan Kent, and the ushers were the brides two brothers, Michael Moore and David Bajkiewicz.

Mrs. Marg Simmer was the organist.

For a reception dinner at the Moose Hall, the Brides Mother received wearing an A line dress in purple crepe, featuring silver jeweled trim and silver shoes, with a purple whimsy as her head dress. She wore a mauve carnation and lily of the valley corsage.

Mrs. Kent received wearing a turquoise A line sheath dress with matching coat, with beaded neckline, silver accessories and a yellow carnation corsage.

Michael Moore was Master of Ceremonies, and the Toast to the Bride was given by John Rapchan, to which the groom responded. Toast to the Bridesmaids was given by Alan Kent.

The Guest Book was circulated by Miss Rosemary Pattison. The bride was honoured at a shower at the Community Church, prior to her marriage, hosted by Mrs. T. Olsen and Mrs. S. Lundberg.

For travelling, the bride donned a two piece suit in Antique green velour plush, with brown accessories and a pink carnation corsage. Mr and Mrs. Kent will reside in Toronto.

Out of town guests included the grooms family, Mr. and Mrs. R. Kent, sons Alan and Dennis, and daughter, Janice, all of Peterborough. Mr. and Mrs. George Rapchan and Bob, of Sault Ste. Marie, Mr and Mrs. Walter Lewicki, Schreiber, and Miss Karen Lundberg, Toronto.
