

Physical Education does not have to be limited to a school gym as one can see from this picture. Curling has been an important sport in the grade seven program this season.

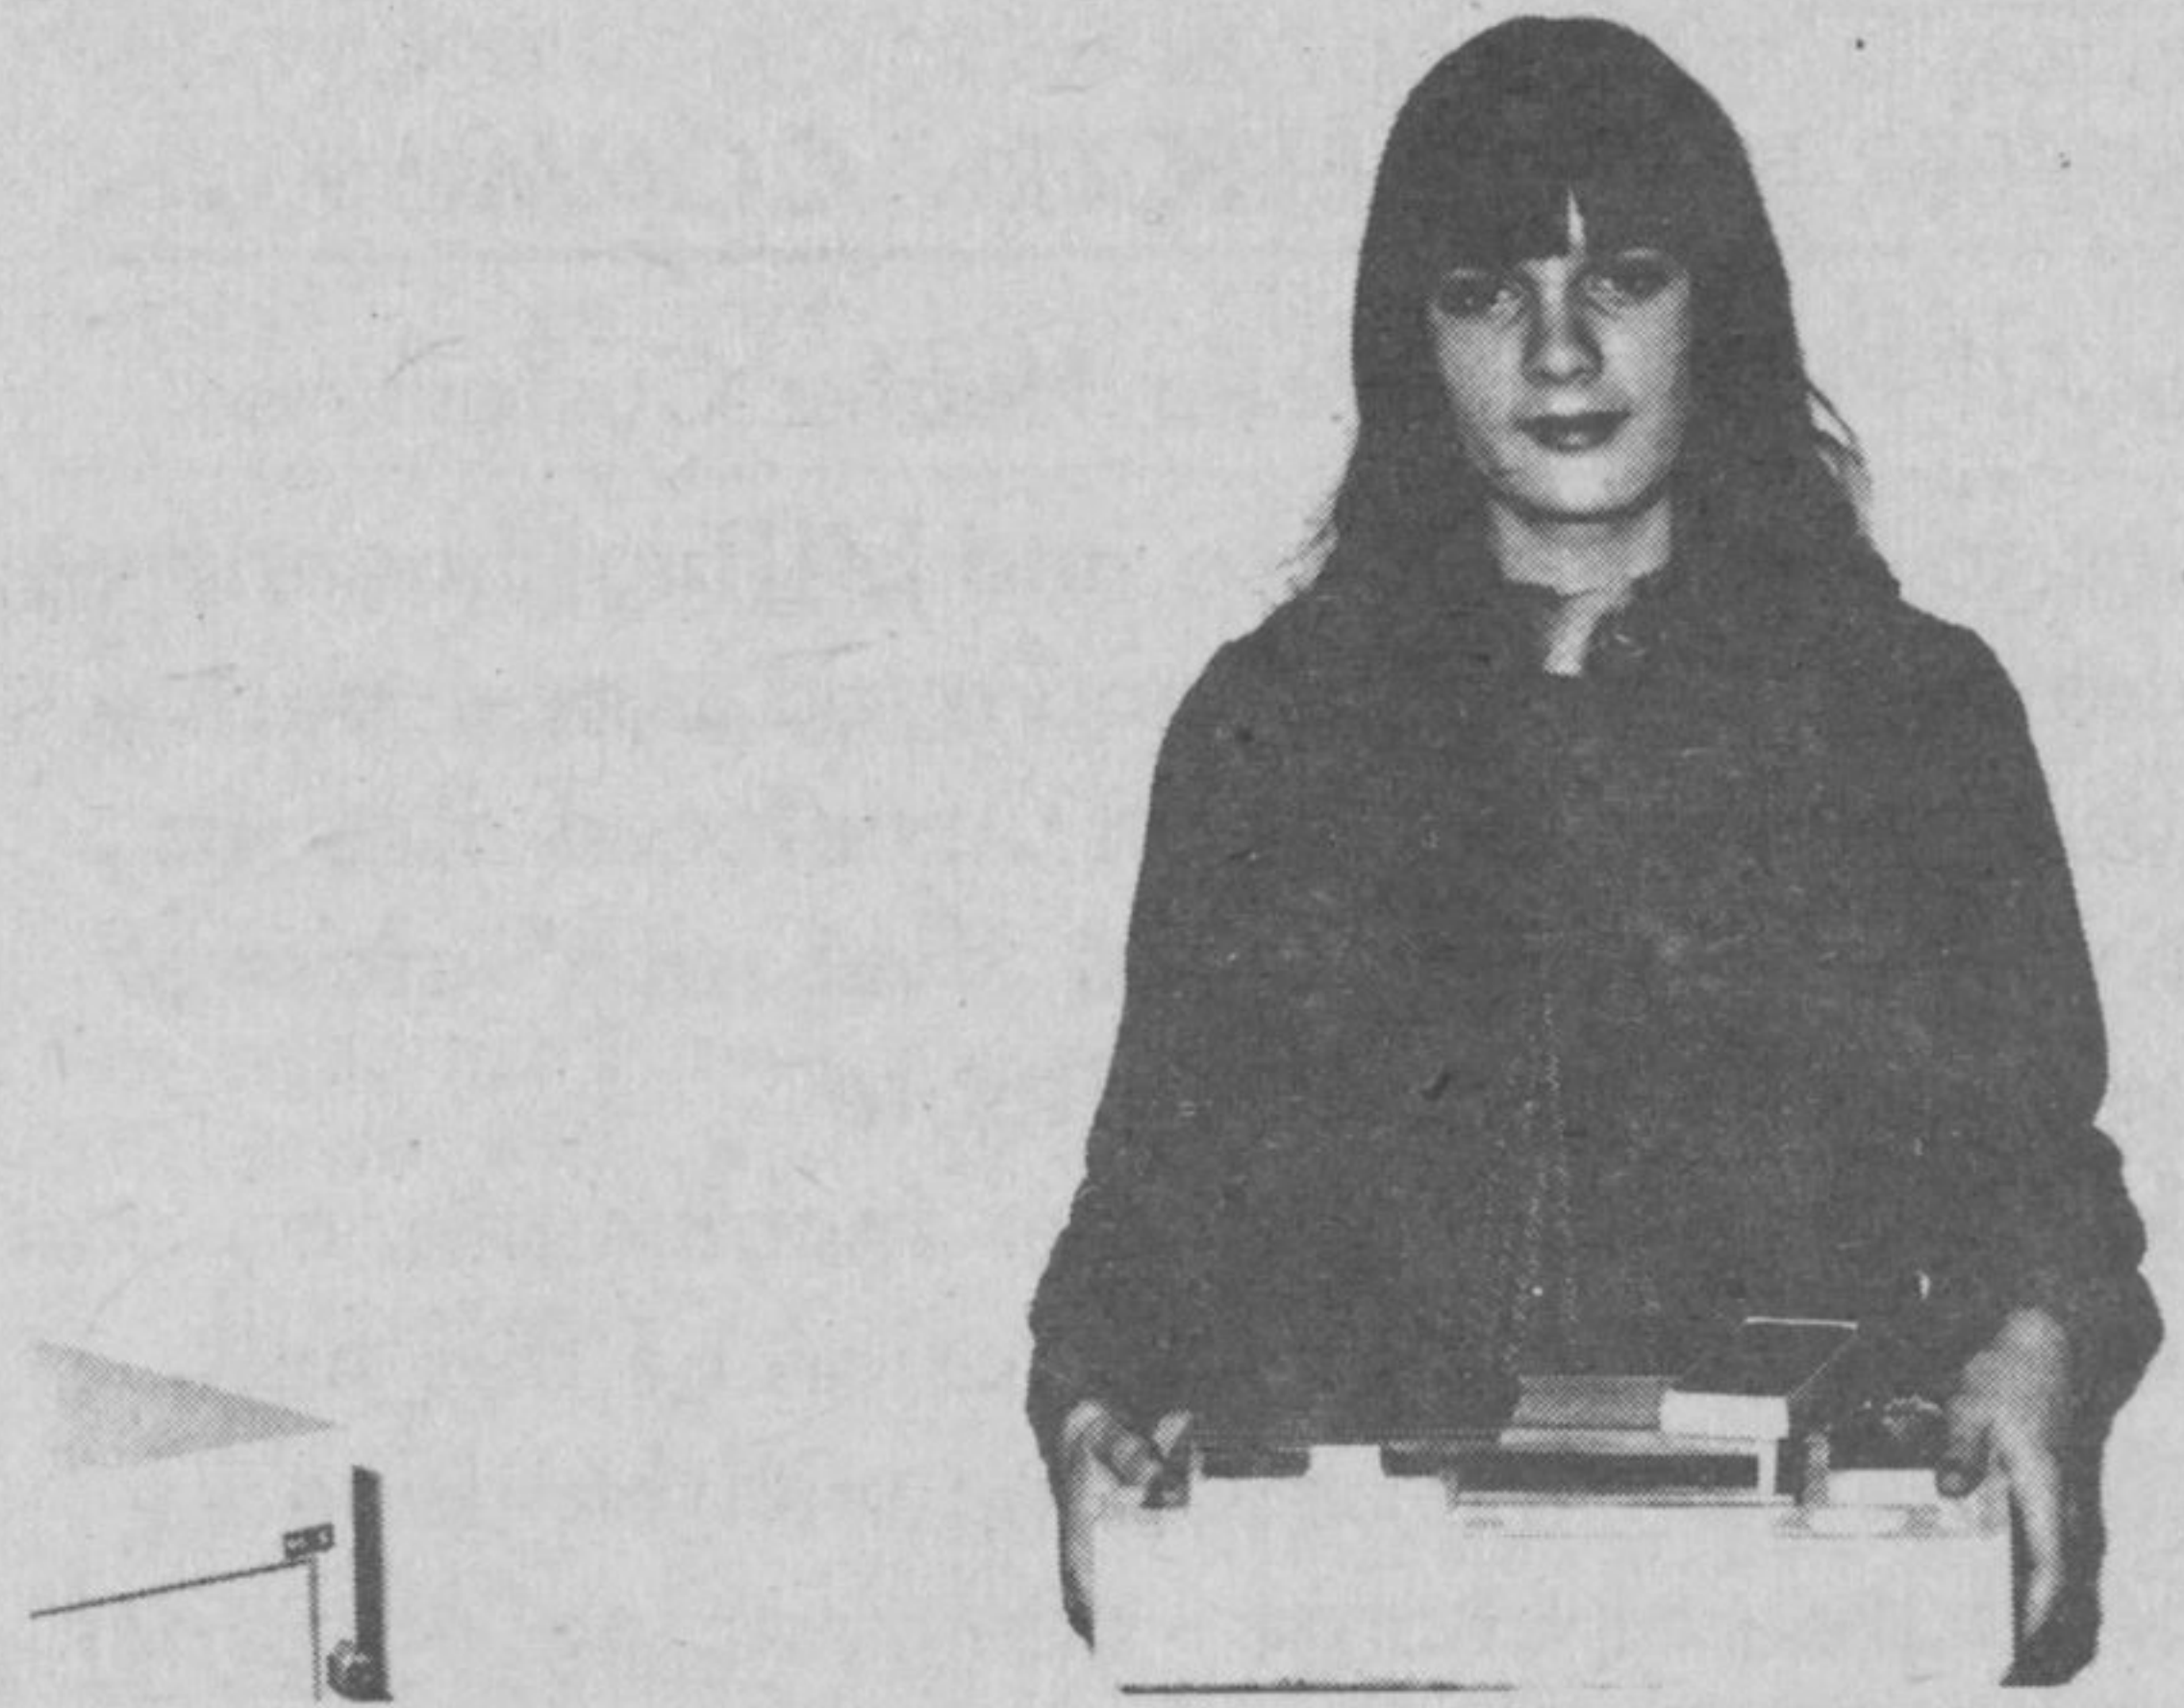

The relaxed side of Father Cano was observed when the teachers of Holy Angels' honoured Father at a farewell supper. Preparing for a challenging of pool he is pictured here with Miss Sandra McLean and Mrs. Chicoino.

Arts and Crafts have captivated the interest of these grade seven students. In this picture Myrna Gauthier, Beverly Duffy and Melanie Ukranec are busily making rings from colourful beads.

Bottom Photo next column - This happy group of grade two's has been caught in the act. Learning a song can be fun especially when equipment such as the earphones seen in this picture are used. Audio equipment such as this is a useful and effective teaching aid.

It is with a feeling of well earned pride and accomplishment that Patricia McGrath displays her reward. Patricia was chosen the top speaker in the recent public speaking contest sponsored by Ontario Hydro.

Holy Angels' School was privileged to have as a visitor, Mrs. Averill, special education consultant for the Lake Superior Board of Education. Mrs. Averill is pictured here teaching an initial lesson in Drama to the grade one class.
