W. Schelling and Albert Rouble had a gang of men harvesting the annual ice requirements on the weekend. About 240 tons of the 8 inch thick cakes of ice weigh in about 600 pounds each were harvested. They reported very little slush ice this year. The ice is used in packing fish for transportation to the different markets. It is cut by power saws today which saves much labour and the back breaking sawing by hand a few years ago. Men using long pike poles guide the blocks along a cut channel where they were loaded into a large truck and taken to the chute which carried them into the ice house. Here they are packed in layers fairly close together and covered with sawdust. This work was carried on in cold weather and strong winds. There is always a morning and afternoon break for coffee and lunch which is always welcome.

Winter has been issuing us a real cold season this year so far. Temperatures have run the gauntlet from 18 to 40 below zero since the New Year. Some home owners had the misfortune of the water works freezing and tanks leaking from the steam pressure.

THE ANGEL'S HARP

The Holy Angel's School staff were pleased to welcome a group of student teachers from Lakehead University recently. The teachers were involved with students from grades 8, 5, and 1. Their stay extended over a two week period after which time they returned to Lakehead University for lectures. The following pictures ( seen on page 16 ) show the teachers directing various activities.
