JUNIOR CHOIR ATTENDS MUSICAL WORKSHOP

Twenty very excited young Junior Choir members of the Community Church under the guidance of Mrs. Margaret McKague, Choir Director, boarded the train Friday morning, travelling to Thunder Bay for a week-end Music Workshop.

This workshop is sponsored by the Thunder Bay Chapter of the Choristers Guild, an organization which deals exclusively in Children's Church music.

Fifty-five young choristers in all attended the workshop, held at Lakeview Presbyterian and St. Paul's United Churches.

As a result of the work done on Saturday, the massed choirs sang at both Churches on Sunday morning.

For many of the girls from Terrace Bay it included some firsts - first time on a train, first time away from home overnight, and first time to be billeted out with strangers. But they were not strangers for long, as they found the hostesses in Thunder Bay treated them royally. They were even priveledged to have a swim on Friday night in the newly opened University Pool.

As well as learning music and singing in many forms, they enjoyed an hour and a half of Creative Dance, taught by Miss Jan Vallance, of the Ontario Ministry of Education.

The entire program of teaching was split four ways between Mrs. Margaret McKague, Miss Vallance, Mrs. Susan Marrier, of St. Paul's and Mrs. Wilma Ayre of Lakeview Presbyterian.

Singers united in a truly Ecumenical spirit, since they represented United, Presbyterian, Baptist, Lutheran, Anglican and Community Churches.

All the girls taking part felt it was a very worthwhile experience, which they hope will be repeated.

The Terrace Bay choirs express their thanks to the Choristers Guild, to those who so kindly billeted them while in Thunder Bay and to the drivers of cars who transported them back home on Sunday afternoon.

Those taking part from Terrace Bay were Susan Barnett, Sheenah Caldwell, Brenda Cornfield, Ann Crockford, Carla Crockford, Karen Cvitkovich, Melody Fisher, Joan Hiebert, Diane Jones, Kathryn Lang, Kathryn MacKenzie, Dawn McBride, Jo-Ann McBride, Cheryl Moore, Mary Pluta, Rosalie Reid, Susan Scott, Isle Smith, Tracy Stachiw and Aila Rouhiainen.

The Schreiber Library Board recently exchanged some 500 books with the Regional Library, and were very please with the number of new books to choose from.
