... report on the adequacy of hospital services to support the program.

... recommend how the whole program may be improved including the co-ordination of patient care services both in hospital and as provided in the community.

Mr. Boyd stressed that although the elimination of low cost patient time will reduce the "per case" cost it will increase the "per diem" cost as there will be more concentrated use of the hospital's facilities.

"Experience is showing, however, that the reduced length of stay is eating into waiting lists and is increasing the efficiency of the utilisation of the in-hospital facilities", he said.

"It's a little old . . . but it has a great air conditioner."
