he is already well on his way. His father sparked his interest in guitar and it was from him that Rod first learned to play country and blues. In a recent folk festival in Thunder Bay Rod placed first and travelled to Toronto and placed second there (in competition with musicians from all over Ontario). He is now an expert blues player and enjoys banjo as well as guitar. He does quite a bit of Dylan, Van Morrison, Taj Mahal and Eric Anderson as well as writing his own music.

Greg Reed, 20 and Maureen McKechnan, 18, are the only two who were not involved with Summer Sounds '72, but only because they didn't audition for it. They are both very well known to Thunder Bay audiences. They like to do Dylan, Bruce Cockburn, Fraser and DeBolt and their own original music. Maureen is said to have "the voice of a bird" and Greg's piano playing is described as "phenomanal".

The show will begin at 8 p.m. on Friday the 23rd at the high school auditorium. Prices to be announced on posters displayed around town.

Let's pack the auditorium as tight as it was for Summer Sounds '72!
