

TODAY'S CHILD

BY HELEN ALLEN

THE TORONTO SUN SYNDICATE

Quiet, shy and pleasant is a good description of 12-year-old David. French and Scottish in descent, he is tall and slim with hazel eyes, fair hair and medium complexion.

David is in good health. He broke his nose when little and if you look hard you can see it's slightly crooked, but it doesn't interfere with his breathing.

David's Grade six work is average or slightly below. He does better in school and in any kind of activity if allowed to go along at his own pace, because pressure bothers him.

Not competitive in nature, David would just as soon stay peacefully indoors building models as go out to play games. However, he takes part in sports at school and last year was on a soccer team.

This co-operative boy usually goes along amiably with what other people want to do. He gets on well with other children.

David's foster parents have a camper and David has enjoyed camping trips with them. That kind of casual outdoor living appeals to him.

David needs relaxed parents who are content to encourage him and not push him.

To inquire about adopting David please write to Today's Child, Box 888, Station K, Toronto M4P 2H2. For general adoption information, please contact your local Children's Aid Society.
