SPIEL TOURS NORTHWESTERN ONTARIO

An information program by 35 university students this summer will provide Ontario citizens with an opportunity to communicate with the Ministry of Labour and its various branches.

The student project providing information on employment rights to the labour force (SPIEL) is designed to increase the general public's awareness of the legislation, programs and services of the Ministry of Labour.

Students from various sections of the province were hired by the Ontario Government to operate the program. Although the basic organization was established by government officials, the entire program is controlled and operated by the students, under the direction of the Information Branch of the Ministry of Labour.

Two university students using Thunder Bay as their home base will cover an area of approximately 400 miles radius, to establish temporary communication centers in shopping centers, exhibitions and other market places where people gather throughout Northwestern Ontario. On July 20th SPIEL will be in Terrace Bay and on July 21st in Schreiber.

Labour Minister Fern Guidon, when he originally announced the program, said that: "The aim of the SPIEL program is to increase the general public's awareness of the legislation, programs and services available through the Ministry of Labour to solve employment related problems. It is also expected that the Ministry will receive feedback from the citizens on the programs."

Prior to embarking on the campaign, the two Northwestern Ontario SPIEL Representatives were given a two-week orientation course on the Ministry of Labour's legislation and programs.
