

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

This is a follow up to the initial letter submitted by the students of the P.E.O.P.L.E. project.

We are now working on the final report of the Jackfish townsite. We have found everything from Indian graves to an engine made by the Tuerk Gas Works, Berlin Ontario (now known as Kitchener). The patented date on the latter is 1899.

Our next endeavor is the Empress Mine and surrounding area. Also work on the Indian Pictograms will be continued.

Again, if anyone has information on the Jackfish, Empress Mine area, please contact either Lonnie Connelly, Schreiber or Mike Corrigan, Terrace Bay.

NORTHERN AFFAIRS IS LIBERATED

Yes, it is true that the Northern Affairs Branch of the Ministry of Natural Resources does not have a permanent officer location in Marathon as yet.

What we do have are the very capable services of Mrs. Miriam Mosindy, secretary, who is in attendance at the office in the Peninsula Building from the usual hours of 8:15 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday - Friday.

And, the services of relief Northern Affairs Officer from Thunder Bay, Miss Ruth McLennan, who will be in Marathon every second week until the position is permanently filled. Presently Miss McLennan is scheduled to be in this area the week of August 6 - 10, and the week of August 20 - 24.

We invite you to drop into our office where requests for information will be handled in the usual manner.

May we also suggest that if your summer includes any plans for sightseeing or camping

SPORTS SLANTS

- By Ray Shank

Chicago Black Hawks defenceman Pat Stapleton is the latest NHL star to defect to the World Hockey Association. And he's not likely to be the last.

When the 33-year-old Stapleton announced last week that he had signed to play and coach for Chicago Cougars, he also let it be known that he would do his utmost to lure Stan Mikita to the Cougars fold.

The Cougars have committed themselves to pay Stapleton $1 million over a five-year period (including a $150,000 signing bonus).

It's kind of hard to figure how a team that finished last in its division last year and didn't average much more than 4,000 fans a
