the schedule, needing at least 30 of their last 59 remaining games. They could very well dot it, if they keep coming up with series sweeps against New York and Philadelphia like they did the previous week. Right now they're five wins ahead of their record last year.

Joe Pepitone told Leo Durocher when he joined Chicago Cubs last year he was fast enough to steal, so coach Joe Amalfitano gave him the sign -- a wink -- the first time he reached first. Pepitone didn't move. The coach winked again. No steal. Finally, after a third wink, Pepitone blew the coach a kiss.

RECREATION NEWS

A week of sun and a full week of fun at Summer Playground '73!

A corn roast was held Thursday night at Jackfish Lake for the 10-14 year olds and turned out to be a big success. After a bus ride out to the lake and a swim, everyone including Sam Ballentine, who said he never ate corn unless it was boiled in water, managed to polish off eight dozen ears of corn roasted right over the fire.

Friday morning, the 5 and 6 year olds walked over to Mr. and Mrs. Farrow's beautiful garden to see the flowers and the fish pond. No one dare leave their fingers dangling in the cool water for fear of having their hand squeezed by Jamie Figliomeni, who was pretending to be an alligator! The children were fascinated by the flowers and the little statues in the garden and would like to thank Mrs. Farrow very much for showing them her garden.

Friday evening, the 7-9 year old boys went fishing at the mouth of the river. With Darcy Weberg spotting the fish jumping a mile away and Robin Helmink out after mermaids, the trip was bound to be eventful. Although no fish were caught, it was a happy group that headed home, making up wild fish stories all the way.

A sleeping party was held Friday night for the 7-9 year old girls in the curling lounge. Surprisingly, even the leaders managed to get some sleep this time, and the next morning the group had a delicious breakfast at the Imperial Restaurant to end the party. Special events for this week include tie-dying and bowling tournament, bingo, an overnight camping trip for 10-12 year old girls, and a shuffleboard tournament. A family entertainment night is being planned as one of the wind-ups to the Playground program and further details will be given at a later date.

SWIMMING PROGRAMME:

Results of the July swim tests were very encouraging and it is hoped that a presentation night will be held again this year to present awards to all successful swimmers. More information on the presentation night will be announced later.

All those swimmers taking the August set of classes are urged to attend their classes on time. In addition, swimmers should attend their classes regardless of weather conditions.
