Vice-Chairman, H.J. Coe, on behalf of the Board, congratulated the new Director on his recent completion of a Master of Education Degree.

Trustees R. Weeks and J. Marcella, Jr., requested that the new Director of Education emphasize, with the Principals in Manitouwadge and Terrace Bay respectively, the immediate establishment of swimming programs within the context of Physical Education to make maximum use of the heated swimming pools in those communities.

Discussion on E.T.V. in our communities evolved the following:

- a) Are we getting our money's worth?
- b) It is recommended that E.T.V. channels not be closed down at 6:00 p.m.
- c) It is recommended that the Board should establish Aims and Objectives relative to E.T.V. in our communities.
- d) It is recommended that a Screening Committee preview all local programs before airing.
- e) Following a complete year's operation the E.T.V. systems should be evaluated and the results presented to the Board.

Authorization of Use of School Facilities: Trustees who are asked for permission to use school facilities on an occasion when the Principal is absent, should contact the Board office before making any commitments.

H.J. Boudreau, Business Administrator, advised that Tax Notices for Unorganized Territories have been received from the printers and will be mailed in the near future.

Trustee M. Dettbarn requested that a quarterly statement of revenue be provided by the Administration. The Business Administrator will establish a system to comply with the request.

The Architectural Firm of Graham and Bacon will be prepared to meet with the Building Committee on Stevens Avenue Addition in early September.

As a medium of communication, minutes of the Principals' Council will be distributed to all Trustees on a six month trial basis.

The next Board meeting will be held on Thursday, September 13th, 1973 at 7:00 p.m. in the Marathon High School.

SPORTS SLANTS

- By Ray Shank

The fun (or the war,) whatever way you want to look at it is just starting!

The National Hockey League, upon hearing that Cleveland Crusaders had signed junior-aged Tom Edur a few weeks ago, declared that it would no longer give its financial support to the CAHA.

In a way, you can't blame the NHL. After all, it has been providing the CAHA with operating capital for many years, on the understanding that it will hold an amateur draft each year and take its pick of the amateur graduates.

The NHL, however, didn't sign players under 20 years of age. That was the agreement it had with the CAHA. For several years, a junior, no matter how super a player he was, was not allowed to jump into pro ranks until he turned 20.

Early last week, word was received that the WHA had signed three more players of junior age - Wayne Dillion of the Memorial Cup champion Toronto Marlboros to Toronto Toros, Jacques Locas, 18-year-old centre with Quebec Remparts to Quebec Nordiques, and Dennis Sobchuck of Regina Pats to Cincinnati Swords.

The Swords, however, are not scheduled to join the WHA until the 1975 season. Sobchuck, who has one year left of junior eligibility, however, is expected to play this season with Los Angeles Sharks and will then be turned over to the Swords the following season. Sobchuck was the second leading scorer in the
