OMEA - continued .....

electrical commissions, purchasing electrical power at cost price from Ontario Hydro, has kept the public in control of the system, Mr. Alexander added.

It will be part of the OMEA's job to ensure that the recently announced energy policy "does not degenerate into political interference." The policy, he said, should be only broad guidelines under which Ontario Hydro can best function for the benefit of municipal customers.

The OMEA, along with government and industry will have an expanded role in increasing public understanding about Ontario Hydro matters, said Mr. Alexander.

The association might also be required to act as an intervener in rate review hearings conducted by the new Energy Board. And it could be the spokesmen for municipal views about government policy relating to electrical energy.

It is "essential" that the OMEA influences Ontario Hydro policy decisions, especially those affecting municipal electrical customers, he said.

BRIDE-ELECT HONOURED AT SHOWER

Miss Meredith Coe, bride-elect of September was the guest of honour at a shower held in the Community Church on Friday, September 7th when many friends gathered to wish her well.

Meredith was seated in a decorated chair with pink umbrella on her arrival and hostess for the evening Mrs. Joan Young presented her with a kitchen corsage.

Mrs. Lil Harris decorated the bonnet with the many ribbons and bows from the gifts. The Misses Cathy Dakin and Norma Phillips passed the gifts to Meredith and Mrs. Phil Boutilier assisted her in opening them.

Co-hostess for the evening was Mrs. Marge Lundberg and the Mesdames T. Young, A. Farrow, M. Phillips and M. MacLeod replenished.

A lovely lunch was served to those present during which everyone admired the many lovely gifts Meredith had received.
