PROPANE DEATHS

Six Ontario residents have died as a result of carbon monoxide escaping from defective propane stoves and refrigerators so far this year. Ten persons died in 1972.

The Ontario Provincial Police Advises residents utilizing this kind of equipment to have it installed and serviced regularly by a licenced propane fitter familiar with these units.

Propane equipment with a blocked flue passage or with a burner improperly adjusted or partially plugged can produce deadly carbon monoxide fumes. Tourists, campers, ice fishers, hunters and others with portable propane cooking and heating units should ensure adequate ventilation while using them. Only a short length of time is required to produce a
