TODAY'S CHILD

BY HELEN ALLEN

THE TORONTO SUN SYNDICATE

In good health, Kenny, 11 years, has dark eyes, brown hair and fair skin. He wears glasses for astigmatism.

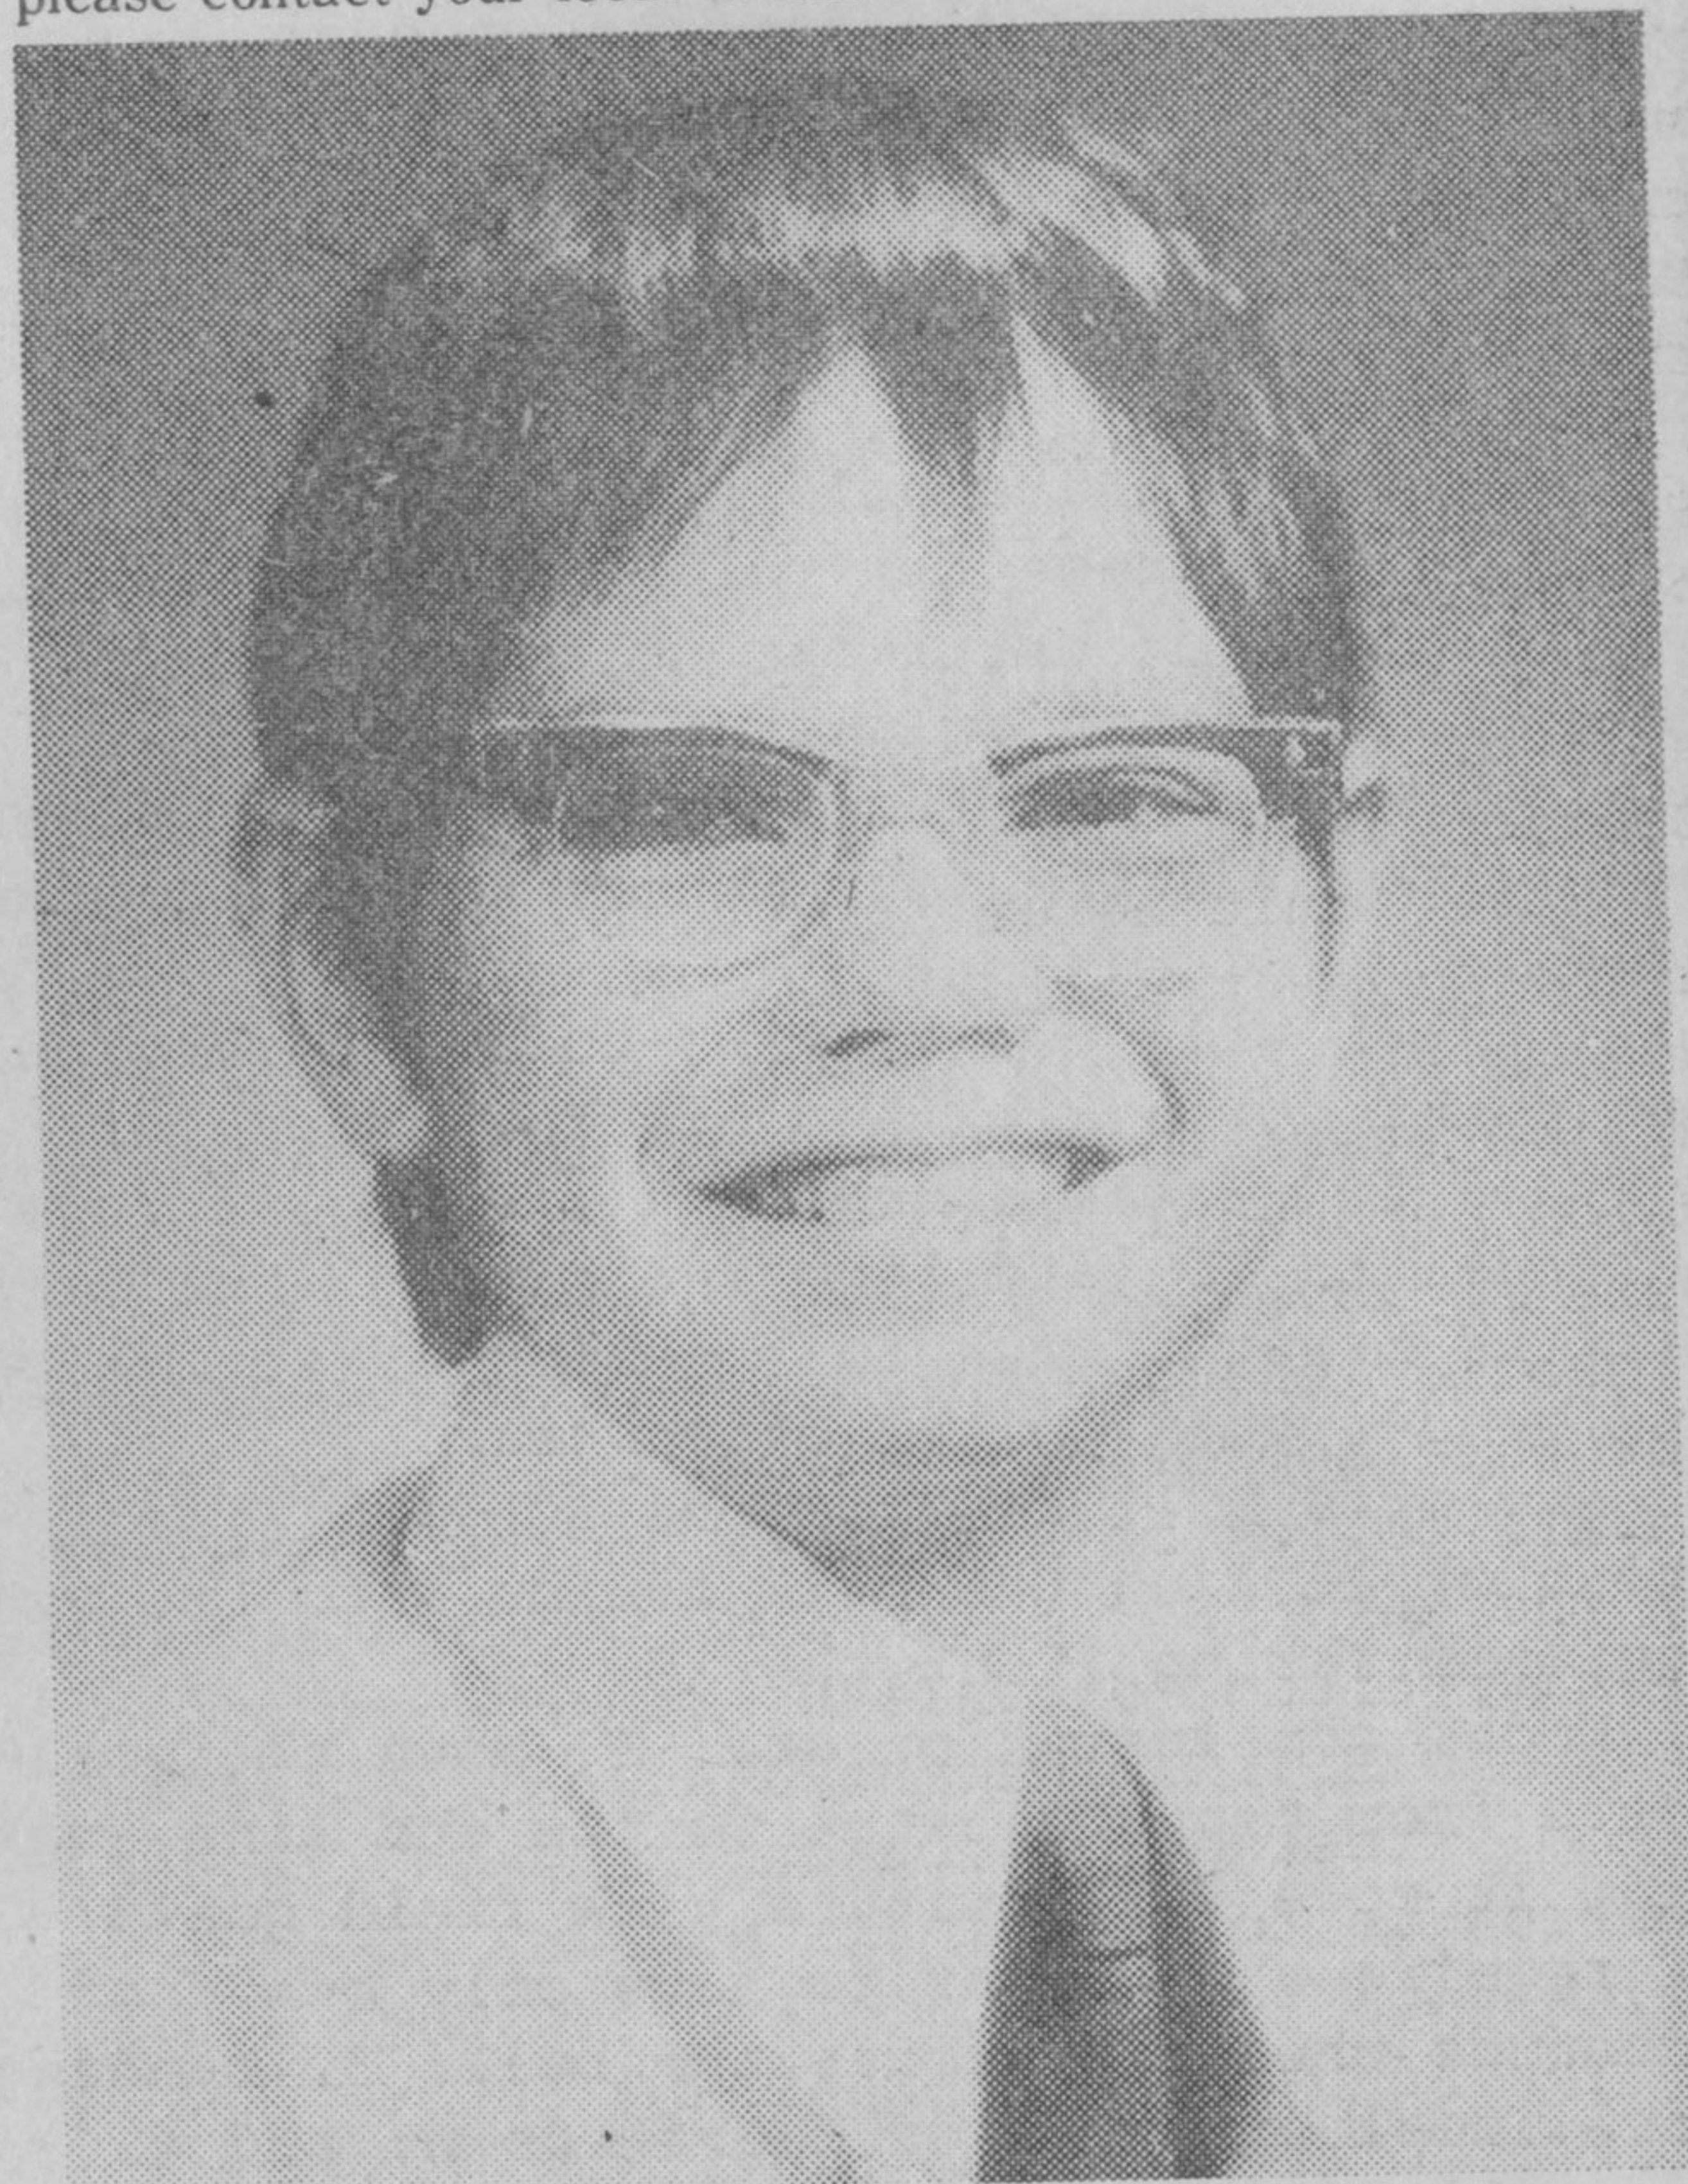

Though confident in social relationships, Kenny needs reassurance and encouragement regarding his academic ability. He is in junior opportunity class and will continue to need special education. He needs help to realize that the important thing is not what class you are in, but that you do your best at whatever you are trying to do.

Kenny is an outdoor type, fond of camping and playing outside. Since he is especially interested in gardening and in all animals, he would like to live on a farm.

Keen on sports, Kenny plays hockey, football and baseball. He is a Scout and attends Sunday School every week. Though not a great reader he enjoys listening to stories.

Kenny's adopting family should have brothers and sisters for him, an atmosphere full of warmth and affection and a father who likes sharing activities with his children.

To inquire about adopting Kenny, please write to Today's Child, Ministry of Community and Social Services, Box 888, Station K, Toronto M4P 2H2. For general adoption information, please contact your local Children's Aid Society.
