Non-golfing, husbands and wives please come and join your partners for the barbeque.

FIRE SITUATION

Reserve forces are moving into the Red Lake area to combat a stubborn forest fire located about 22 miles west of the town. New mapping showed that the fire covers 92,400 acres. This includes unburned areas and lakes within the fire perimeter.

Fifty-two men are currently battling this fire with more awaiting transportation to the area when smoke conditions permit. Three helicopters and one water bomber are fighting the fire. Two Otter are on standby at Red Lake and additional air support has been requested.

The fire located about 30 miles southwest of Dryden remained fairly calm yesterday with firefighters consolidating more fireline around its perimeter.

Crews are still in position at Poplar Hill about 80 miles north of Red Lake and at Deer Lake 30 miles further north. Neither community is in immediate danger and protective action is continuing.

Forty-four fires are currently burning in N/W region. Two new fires were reported overnight and six extinguished.

No rain is in sight for N/W region for the next few days with extremely dry conditions continuing. Less than one inch of rain has fallen in July and the normal average is about three inches a month. Winds of 1-15 MPH from the East tomorrow will shift to south on Saturday and increase in velocity. Humidity remains in the 40 per cent range.

Seven hundred and fifty-six men are currently fighting N/W region fires with a reserve force of 265. Forty-eight aircraft are also being used.

TODAY'S CHILD

BY HELEN ALLEN

THE TORONTO SUN SYNDICATE

A quiet, diffident boy, Marty, almost eight, needs love and reassurance. Unhappy experiences, before he came into the care of the Children's Aid Society have left him without confidence in himself. He should blossom in the warm, encouraging atmosphere of a family which he knows is his very own.

Marty is Anglo-Saxon in descent, good-looking and slightly built with lovely brown eyes, blonde wavy hair, fair skin and a dimple in his chin. He is in good health. A slight speech defect is gradually improving without therapy. He is not difficult to understand.

Going into Grade two, Marty is at least average in ability. He tries hard to do his best in whatever he attempts. Pleasant, polite, well behaved, Marty is talkative when with people he knows. He enjoys attention but does not seek it.

Like most small boys, Marty plays a lot with cars and trucks. He takes them apart and since he has a good deal of manual dexterity and understands how many things work, he also puts them together again. Marty loves to help his foster father fix things around the house. He is fond of skating and likes the water though he hasn't yet learned to swim.

Lovable young Marty needs a home where he will be the only child or the youngest by several years and where the mother and father will want to spend a great deal of time with their son.

To inquire about adopting Marty, please write to Today's Child, Ministry of Community and Social Services, Box 888, Station K, Toronto M4P 2H2. For general adoption information, please contact your local Children's Aid Society.
