

TODAY'S CHILD

BY HELEN ALLEN

THE TORONTO SUN SYNDICATE

happy three-year-old, lovable and easy to care for. He receives much attention from his foster parents and several others. He is not a demanding child. He is quite cheerful if he can see people.

He has been slow in developing and is considerably behind for his age. He has only started to walk and, though he can talk a lot, only a few words are recognizable.

He is a boy, Billy, has blonde curly hair, fair skin and dark eyes. He did turn in but are improving after corrective surgery. He has a good appetite and sleeps well.

He needs a family who will appreciate his happy disposition and help him over his slow development.

If you are interested about adopting Billy, please write to Today's Child, Community and Social Services, Box 888, Station K, Toronto, Ontario M5P 2H2. For general adoption information consult the Children's Aid Society.
