

rant with his wife Pat and baby opped in Terrace Bay on their way rances were Bill will be working with try of Natural Resources.

GOOD NIGHT TO THE END

Nesbitt being supported by her team er they won the Ladies Evening Bowled are left to right - Marion Burns, pas, Sybil Wenzlaff, Linda Nesbitt, id, Rose Halonen.

by Pam Jones

EXPERT SURVEYS SLATE ISLANDS

ou know that there are 120 Caribou on e Islands?

. (Tom) Bergerud associate Professor niversity of Victoria, B.C. came here field Assistant Heather Butler, ider Biologist, Tim Timmerman, Region-gist from Thunder Bay and Jim Chappel and Wild Life Supervisor from Terrace ral Resources.

group flew out to the slates to check Caribou. Dr. Tom Bergerud is consider-of the best Caribou experts to be and in their survey they noted that the on the Slate Islands are definately y their habits and life style to suit ditions on the Slates.

noticeable change was their size. They oming a smaller sub species, they are nid and hide away quickly, and not in herds anymore. But travelling r in pairs, the Caribou can be found in group of nine Islands situated on erior.

Wonder what Reg Payette is looking at?

The answer is the busted water main on Kenog-ami Road. In the hole are George Rouhainin, Roy Cornfield and Darrell Gorman. Photos by Pam Jones.

These are some of Esko Saranpaa's pupils of the Grade 9 Small Engines class working on the engines in the high school car park. Pictured are Ken Churney and Greg Chepelsky.

