YOUNG ENGLISH COUPLE VISIT TERRACE BAY

Did you see the Red Double Decker Bus in town? I saw it outside the Police Station and thought that the Chief had had his own bus shipped over, and being English too I was soon invited in to see it, and to meet the owners. What an interesting day I had with Georgie Roy-Clarke and her husband David.

First was a tour through the bus with the school children, and Georgie had a volume of questions to answer from them. It was a delight to be there and to hear all the strange and wonderful tales about the hundreds of souvenirs that she and David had collected on their travels.

What caught the children's eye were the 301 police patches and badges that adorned all the interior at the entrance of the 'Mobile Home' as it now is. Georgie laughed when she told of all the times she had been in Police Stations. She said that they had to more or less check in with the police in the towns they were stopping in because of parking laws and
