Wet weather did not dampen the enthusiasm of the population of Pays Plat Sunday, when they proceeded to hold their annual outdoor picnic.

Visitors came from Thunder Bay, Nipigon, Schreiber, and Rosspport. Before the rain fell too hard, races and contests were run off for the children. The ball game had to be cancelled. Refreshment booths were offering hot dogs, hamburgers, fresh fried lake trout, salads and rolls were sold out early in the day.

Finally they wound up the activities with a sing-song, step dancing contests and other entertainment indoors. This activity will be an annual affair.

Chief Jerry Bouchard and Mike Wannekamik were managing the picnic. Leona Goodchild, Paulette Auger and Cathy Bouchard convened the refreshments with Edna Wannekamik as chairman. A lovely display of Indian Art and Crafts consisting of leather goods, beaded articles, necklaces and earrings and wood caring was featured.
