LETTER TO THE EDITOR:

It seems that the reporter of the Court report of February 19, 1976 must have had her report edited before she turned it in to the Terrace Bay News, as there was a few notable omissions as to what actually happened there.

Seeing that the Town Council wants everything that happens in our court room made public, I want the public to read the truth, not just the part siding with our local Police Department.

The Judge did find me guilty of the charge, but, in his own words, said this charge was so ridiculous, in fact the most ridiculous to come before him in quite some time, that he had no alternative, but to dismiss this case and all charges attached to it.

Now who do you think pressed this ridiculous charge. I certainly didn't. Apparently this must be the reason for the edited version of the report.

Now we move on to the apology part of our report. What really transpired is that the Judge asked both Constable Aulenback and myself to try and act like mature adults and some time in the future to shake hands and forget this whole matter. I then asked the Judge if I could comply with his request at the time, as I don't see our men in blue that often. He agreed to my request and we both shook hands. Now this is quite different than what we read in the paper last week.

This is the actual account of what happened at this session of our court, not the misleading abbreviated version that we read in last weeks paper.

Thank you very much,
