INFORMATION ONTARIO

by Bev Young

The 1975 Tax Credit System, financed by the Government of Ontario, is comprised of four tax credits: Property Tax Credit; Sales Tax Credit; Pensioner Tax Credit; Political Contribution Tax Credit.

The Property Sales and Pensioner tax credits are intended to improve the fairness of the provincial and municipal tax systems. Property tax and retail sales tax tend to place a proportionately heavier burden on persons with lower incomes than on those with higher incomes. The impact of the property tax is particularly burdensome for elderly persons on fixed incomes. Thus, the net amount of Property, Sales and Pensioners tax credits available depends upon the taxfiler's family circumstances, age, income and the property tax or rent paid in the year, subject to an overall maximum of $500. Taxfilers who are 65 of age or older may be eligible for all three of these tax credits.

The Property, Sales and Pensioner tax credits may be claimed even if the taxfiler has no taxable income for income tax purposes.

The Political Contribution Tax Credit is designed to encourage greater public participation in the democratic process. This credit may only be claimed by persons who have "Provincial Tax Payable" under the Ontario Income Tax Act, after deducting any Property, Sales or Pensioner tax credits to which they may be entitled.
