The following news release from the Ministry of Industry and Tourism should be of interest to most small business operators.

LOW COST CONSULTING AVAILABLE TO BUSINESS

Low cost management consulting services for small businesses is being made available this year through the Small Business Assistance Program (SBAP) of the Ontario Ministry of Industry and Tourism.

For the fourth year the Ministry will undertake the program, with 120 university business administration students supplying counselling services to small businesses from May through August.

Counselling by the graduate students covers such areas as cash management and financial planning, bookkeeping systems, production scheduling and cost control, marketing and marketing research, distribution and promotion.

Claude Bennett, Ontario Minister of Industry and Tourism, said the SBA Program offers business counselling at a very low cost in areas essential for the success of small promotion.

"Last year" he said, "700 consulting assignments were completed for 568 companies. These companies had, in total, sales in excess of $80 million. Although the typical company that received assistance was small, the combined contribution to Ontario's economy is significant."

Business administration faculties of 12 Ontario universities - Carleton, Lakehead, Laurentian, McMaster, Ottawa, Queen's, Ryerson, Toronto, Western, Windsor, Wilfred Laurier and York - will be participating in the program.

Students work is closely supervised by university faculty and is supported by services available from Ontario Ministry of Industry and Tourism specialists in technology, marketing and service industries.

As it is not intended this service compete with private consulting firms, businesses eligible for the service must not be in a position to engage professional consultants.

Cost of the service borne by the Ministry, although a nominal fee is charged to the businesses using it.
