

INFORMATION ONTARIO: Cont'd
But wait a minute.....there are hazards to-day which didn't bother kite fliers through earlier ages.

Local and provincial Hydro utilities warn that unless special precautions are taken, accidents or even a tragedy can happen as a result of flying kites without caution.

One fatality occurred for instance when a kiter riding his bicycle on a country road steered his high-flying toy into an overhead electric wire. The electricity quickly ran through the copperized kite line to ground and killed the young hobbyist.

Metallic lines are being used more and more frequently and they are dangerous. When these lines come in contact with electric power lines there is a very good chance of a serious accident.

Every year Hydro authorities find it necessary to repeat the warnings about flying kites in the vicinity of power lines.

Don't.
