The variety of media included, water colour Acrylic, charcoal, pastels, pencil, india ink and figures. Among the subjects chosen were landscapes, seascapes, portraits, still life, abstract and calligraphy.

Mrs. Helen Strickland, who was sponsored by Confederation College to give two teaching sessions to the Club this past season was here for the show.

Considerable interest was shown in the display of the school children's exhibit, in a class taught by Colleen Glad, who was sponsored by the Schreiber Recreation Association. One twelve year old artist in the group was delighted when two of her pastels were sold.

The display was shown to advantage in the large public school auditorium, on Saturday afternoon and evening and Sunday afternoon. Guests enjoyed refreshments. Tea, coffee and small cakes were served in the corridor by Mrs. Maybelle Furlonger's Committee.

All the members worked, with Mrs. Simonne Bourgeois, the club president, as the official hostess.

Mrs. Jack Handel won the painting donated by Gwen Hadley and the door prize, donated by Bonnie Dye was won by Mrs. Mona McConnell.

Members of the Royal Canadian Legion, Br. 109, and their Ladies Auxiliary met at the cenotaph for the ceremony of placing the wreaths which was supposed to have been done on November 11 when the Remembrance Day rites were conducted. However, due to the postal strike the wreaths did not arrive then.

Borden Ross, past president, was M.C. for the occasion when twenty four wreaths were presented from the various business firms in town and other associations. Roy Nesbitt assisted Mr. Ross.
