As a non-affiliate of the Kimberly Clark Corporation, I can say without reservations that I have found the Company just about tops anywhere to transact Municipal business with. During the planning and building of our Golf Course, the Centennial Park and the Lakeview extension and many lesser projects they were always ready to help with their heavy equipment and professional advice. When our High School was built the Government made no provisions for an auditorium and the Company added that at their expense. I am not so gullible as not to realize that good public relations is good for business but do submit that the Company did on many occasions go beyond the basic requirements.

In completing this rambling report I do feel somewhat embarrassed in mentioning some of my contributions but the fact remains that in coming to Terrace Bay I was considerably older than our young population and in having experience in organization gave me the unique opportunity of contributing some input into the progress of our young town, which I enjoyed immensely.

Ed Cavanaugh.
