Celebrate Canada Week

JUNE 25-JULY 1

If you want to know what Canada really is, ask someone who has recently emigrated to this country. Or, if you have traveled abroad you know when you say "I'm a Canadian" almost everyone receives you with genuine friendliness. How many other nations do you know who are received in the same way?

The Council for Canadian Unity, an apolitical organization of volunteer Canadians, initiated CANADA WEEK (June 25-July 1) in 1969 for the promotion of one Canada for all Canadians. It has been a growing success with each passing year.

Composed of many people in all walks of life and from all sectors of the community, the Council takes positive action from day-to-day in its combat against separatism in all its forms and it gives overt support to positive action by others toward promoting the unity of all Canadians throughout the land.

We Canadians are facing a crucial time in our history. It may seem difficult to get hold of the problems facing us; to get them to stand still long enough for us to work out equitable solutions. Your local Canada Week Committee is there to help you contribute to the promotion of a united Canada.

Some people in Quebec feel they would be happier, more culturally secure and have a better future as a separate nation. Others in Canada think the country would be served by helping Quebec to get out of confederation. Both views are woefully short-sighted. Such people fail to see Canada as the greatly blessed nation it is. For many, in other parts of the world, we are a symbol of hope and the land of their dreams.

It is up to each Canadian to demonstrate his faith in Canada its wonderfully diverse people and the future we can build together. To let this country slip from us now because of apathy indifference or the ignorance of short-sighted views would be a tragic event for our children and for the world.

Come on, Canadians!

Celebrate CANADA WEEK.
