SCHOOL NEWS

The St. Martin School staff and students presented their Remembrance Day programme on November 8. In addition to honouring the war-dead and injured in the traditional manner, students had an opportunity to contemplate the meaning of peace in our lives and to suggest practical ways of promoting peace, caring and sharing within the Terrace Bay community. Joey Caranci hosted the programme which included a brief homily by Father Murtagh, poetry readings by Tammy White, Lisa Fournier and Kathleen Ramsay, two selections by the School Choir, and a multi-media presentation, a celebration of peace and freedom prepared by Miss J. Pinneau, Jennifer Kodila and Chris McBride. The assembly concluded with everyone singing Joe Wise's moving "Lord, Teach Us to Pray". A special thank you to Mr. J. Mikus for enriching our programme with the sound of his trumpet.

PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT DAY

Monday, November 13, the staffs of Holy Angels and St. Martin Schools participated in a Professional Development Day designed to improve the music curriculum in the two schools.

Primary teachers had the opportunity to select from a number of options related to the music programme in their classrooms. The available activities, with assistance from Miss A. Syposz, included learning to play the autoharp, playing songs on the tone bells, listening to recordings and tapes of music integrated in the curriculum, echo clapping, designing learning materials, arranging accompaniments for songs and creative experiences.

Junior and Intermediate teachers guided by Mrs. B. Hanley worked diligently and with admirable vigour through the rhythm, melody and harmony sections of the Silver Burdett Music level 7 programme currently in use in the Intermediate division. Teachers experienced the difference between beat and rhythm pattern, duple and triple metre, engaged in the intricacies of syncopation, discovered the architectural structure of the major scale, deciphered the contour of melodies and learned to differentiate between monodic, homophonic and polyphonic music. It's all in a day's work.
