HOSPITAL NOTES

Work on the new hospital is humming away smoothly. About sixty per cent of the inside walls are up and almost all the windows now are in. Some of the heavy machinery, such as the boilers and emergency generators, are being put in.

Three new R.N.'s are coming on the casual nursing staff -- Cindy Waghorn, Mary Ellen Bouchie and Elaine Keenan. We welcome the girls.

Linda Stewart attended a course last week at the Hospital for Sick Children in Toronto, on Nursing Care of the Sick Newborn. Courses such as this are valuable in bringing up-to-date information to all the nursing staff.

It has been reported before how fortunate we in this area are in having caring and thoughtful people willing to give generously of their time and talents to improving the lot of their neighbours. We would like to give our grateful thanks this week to Mrs. Beth Macadam, who produces for the pleasure of patients lovely tray favours on special days. Beth is a very gifted lady and has given that bit "extra" to someone who is ill appreciates.

Our financial standing, at February 2nd and since January 12th is:
