It must be Spring, they're playing soccer. Fans cheer on the local team during the Invitational Soccer Tournament held in Terrace Bay over the weekend. The Tournament started at 9 a.m. on Saturday morning and saw play between two teams from Geraldton, two teams from Terrace Bay, one team from Manitowadge and one team from Nipigon.

Tony Hogervorst of the Ministry plants a tree on Simcoe Plaza to commemorate the Annual Convention of the Horticultural Society, held this year in Terrace Bay. Looking on are Peter Monks, Joanne Hogervorst and District Director Dorothy Dove.

Horticultural Society hosts Annual Convention

The Terrace Bay Horticultural Society hosted the Annual District 14 Convention over the weekend. Thirty-seven delegates registered for the two day event which included a Social Friday evening and the regular business meeting on Saturday.

Representatives of the Society and the Ministry of Rural Organizations (formerly Food and Agriculture) planted a tree on Simcoe Plaza on Saturday afternoon. The Royalty Crab is the second tree that the Society has planted on the Plaza and a spokesman said that the group would be trying to plant a new tree each year.

Representatives from eight towns including Thunder Bay, Nipigon, Red Rock, Rainy River, Emo and Dryden attended the Convention. In addition to the regular meeting, local gardener Duncan MacKay gave a talk on his area of agricultural specialty and hosted a tour of his garden.

Diving accident prevention seminar

The North Shore Dive Club sponsored the largest diving safety seminar ever held in the area last Saturday.

The seminar featured guest speakers Dr. George Harpur and Dr. Lorne Kuehn. Dr. Harpur is one of North America's leading diving medicine researchers and is working with the Tobermory Hyperbaric facility in Tobermory, Ontario. Dr. Kuehn is one of the foremost experts in hypothermia. He has spent twenty years in biophysical research. Dr. Kuehn was formerly with the Defense and Civil Institute of Environmental medicine in Toronto and is now Director for Science and Technology (Human Performance) at the National Defence Headquarters in Ottawa.

Over fifty people interested in diving attended the Seminar in the Schreiber Recreation Centre. Co-chairman Ryan LeBlanc said that the seminar had taken just about one year to organize.

Other speakers at the seminar included Gerry Buchanan, an ardent underwater photographer and diving instructor from Duluth; and Christina Mikoski representing the Ontario Heart Foundation. Mikoski is actively involved in nursing instruction at Confederation College and brought twenty years of experience in the field to the Seminar.

The topics examined

during the seminar covered the entire field of diving accidents. Dr. Harpur spoke to sessions on Diving Emergencies, Cold Injury and its treatment, and Drowning management. Christina Mikoski spoke on 'cardio-pulmonary resuscitation' while Gerry Buchanan led a session on Marcosis; what is it, symptoms and treatment.' Dr. Kuehn took the group through an in-depth look at the Theories of Hypothermia.

The new Chip Stand in Town. The subject of a major debate at the Terrace Bay Council.

Terrace Bay Council

Taxes to be lower than expected

The Terrace Bay Council met twice last week in public session to deal with the items on its Agenda. In the first session on Monday the Council received a delegation of concerned property owners from Timbergrove Court who wanted to discuss problems relating to the operation of the nearby Chip Stand. Last Friday the Council approved a surprisingly low tax increase of under five per cent and split on motions relating to the Library and the sale of jet fuel at the Airport.

Monday, May 9

The Council met for a half an hour before the regular public session with the Dog Control Officer to discuss the dog control situation in town.

Reeve Dave Speer presided at the regular meeting with Councilors Ollie Chapman, Bill Houston and Joe Kennedy present, and Councillor George Ramsay absent.

Reeve Speer said that he would like the Council's permission to alter the Agenda to allow the Council to hear a delegation of citizens from Terrace Heights. The Council agreed to the change.

Frank Doyle told the Council that several of the residents of Timbergrove Court are concerned about garbage blowing into their yards from the Chip Stand now operating on the Shell Service Station property. He said that in addition they were concerned about children and adults crossing their property to get to the Chip Stand and about the stability of the 40 foot embankment that the Chip Stand is built on which abuts the rear of their property.

Doyle said, "We are all concerned about the Doughnuts may be cheaper by the dozen, but will Terrace Bay be selling jet fuel cheaper by the truck load? The answer was 'Yes' by 4 to 1.
