Pulp and Paper Reports:

Leading Industry

In this era of electronics and high technology, it is easy to overlook the importance of the resource industries to the Canadian economy.

Converting the forest harvest into hundreds of useful products creates more incomes than any other Canadian manufacturing activity. The forest industry still employs more people and pays more wages than any other sector of the economy.

When it comes to earning foreign currency through exports, forest products make the largest single contribution to Canada's trade balance, more than metals, food and agriculture, fisheries and the automotive industries...combined. Natural resources have always been the foundation of Canada's economy. And none has contributed as much as the forest.
