L.S.B.E. responds to Allan Report

Board's Response

The initial draft of the Board's Response was prepared by its Director, Margaret Twomey, and subsequently reworked by the Board members before being presented to the Regional Director and passed along to the Minister.

The Response says, "At the outset, the Trustees of the Lake Superior Board of Education would like to express their appreciation to the Minister for the appointment of the Commissioner to study the problems associated with the delivery of education in small secondary schools in Northern Ontario, and specifically, to study the numerous and varied problems confronting the LSBE in this delivery of program and services."

"Further the Trustees would like to convey to the Minister their appreciation for the wise choice of G. Rodger Allan as the Commissioner. Mr. Allan's wealth of experience as an educator, his sensitivity to people and to issues, and his appreciation and understanding of the problem of the north made him an excellent choice for a very difficult assignment. His sense of timing, his choice of words, his use of humour on many occasions diffused tense and potentially volatile situations. His report, although not always appreciated in its entirety by all parties, has, nevertheless, met with general acceptance, consensus and support. It is viewed as a comprehensive and fair analysis and articulation both of the problems and the potential resolution of those problems long apparent in the North."

Schreiber Campus
The first recommendation of the Commissioner was that the LSBE maintain the two-campus organization of the Lake Superior High School. On April 26, the board made a commitment to the provision of elementary and secondary education in each community in its jurisdiction and consequently to the retention of the Schreiber Campus. These resolutions were passed in 'good faith' by the board and were predicated on the good will of the Ministry in responding as well to the Commissioner's recommendation of doubling the small school weighting factor. It is imperative that adequate funding be available not only to retain a twinned campus in the communities of Schreiber and Terrace Bay, but also to improve the program offerings in the communities of Marathon and Manitouwadge. Given the high cost of administering, operating and delivering programs and services in very small secondary schools in the four communities a substantial increase in the weighting factor must be realized.

"The Board supports the Commissioner's recommendation "that the Ministry increase the small school weighting factor by introducing an isolated secondary school factor." It would appear that 'doubling the small school weighting factor' would considerably alleviate the high cost of providing and improving educational programs and services in the four communities."

The Board also pressed in its Response for additional money for improvements for the schools in Marathon and Manitouwadge. "The LSBE concurs with the Commissioner's recommendation that capital grants be available on a priority basis to those schools who do not have the facilities to provide
