It's a lumberjack's life

How would you feel if you were awakened at 5:30, obliged to use an eight-holer outhouse, and to wash in an ice-encrusted bucket of water? What would you do if you were told to start work at 6:45 a.m. when it was still dark sawing and hauling logs till 5:30 p.m.? Would you do all this in the middle of the winter in the isolation of the wilderness for $6.00 a day? It was only 40 years ago that intrepid loggers were facing these challenges in logging camps throughout Pukaskwa National Park. Their work wasn't as bad as that of the camp cooks, however. They had to be up at 4 a.m. to prepare breakfast for the crews and often weren't finished washing up until 8 p.m. Cooks were the most important members of the crew. They could make or break a camp. Poor cooks were literally driven away by the men.

juice, tea or coffee and powdered milk. Lunch was eaten quickly in the cutting areas around a small fire to ward off the bitter cold. For supper ample portions of meat, potatoes, and, of course, pies and cakes were consumed.

As well as large quantities of food, many layers of clothing were needed to ward off the cold. "Lumberjacks were known to wear longjohns, two pairs of wool pants, two warm colourful checked shirts, two pairs wool socks, insoles, leather moccasins or rubber boots with leather tops, a lined canvas parka, wool mitts, elbow length leather mitts, and a fur or wool hat.

Getting dressed in the morning would have been a chore had these men been issued more than two blankets. As it was, the buildings were so cold that the men slept in their clothes at night. Each evening the lights were put out at 9 p.m. Most men, by this time, were ready for sleep. There was little entertainment in the camps, and anyway, the men would be exhausted after a long day cutting and hauling."

It was hard work logging in the early 1900's. However, the chance to make a stake enticed men into the logging camps. When you have nowhere to spend your $6.00 a day, it tends to accumulate.

19th hole

by MIKE MOORE
The great weather we've been experiencing has brought a lot of activity on the golf course this past week.

Sat. July 9th 11 junior members teed off in pursuit of the "Costa Trophy" for the junior club championship. Mike Strassburger emerged with a low gross 87 to claim this year title. Mike was followed closely by David Fowler with a 90, and Pertti Lehtinen with a 92. The 8 boys and 3 girls were treated to hot dogs, pop, golf balls and caps courtesy of Costa's Ltd., and Tony Costa presented Mike Strassburger with the trophy.

Sun. July 10th 12 teams of Sr. and Jr. golfers competed for the "Dave Derosiers and son" trophy. The team of Lou Legall and Dave Fowler won with a low net 71. They were followed by Terry O'Driscoll and Rob Andrews with a net 77½ and 3rd low net went to Charlie Matson and Steve Legall with a net 79½.

1st low gross were Kim Gellert and Tim Legall - 90
2nd low gross - Paul (who was carried by his Jr. Champ son, Mike) Strassburger - 92
3rd low gross - Trent Desaulniers and Pertti Laitinen - 94

Special thanks to Jean Megrew - Tanya Evoy and Leslie and Brigitta Samp for their performances. Hope to see more ladies out next year. The results of the July 12 twilight are:

0-14
1st low gross - Paul Dashkewytch - 33
2nd low gross - Mark Dashkewytch - 39
3rd low gross - Trent Desaulniers - 42
1st low net - Terry O'Driscoll - 34
2nd low net - Tom Weaver - 34
3rd low net - Rick Dejonghe - 37½

15 and over
1st low gross - Shane Riley - 41
2nd low gross - John Kowalchuk - 43
3rd low gross - Lee Porter - 43

1st low net - Scotty Hamilton - 31
2nd low net - Don Yule - 32
3rd low net - Ron Sitko - 33½

The executive has been advised that there are some members who are abusing the privilege of being a member. The Aguasabon Golf Club is a private club, open to those who wish to play for the price of a yearly membership or daily green fees. Club members are responsible to ensure that the people they play with are club members or greens fee payers. People who use the course without paying only increase the cost to those that do pay.

The executive will prosecute under the Trespass Act, those who golf without paying. Members who bring non members to the course and do not pay greens fees run the risk of having their membership revoked.

The executive do not wish to take such steps but if these occurrences continue, they will have no alternative.

Letter to the Editor:

Hearing unit

Dear Sir:
The Hospital for Sick Children's Mobile Hearing Unit is about to start its eighth annual tour of northern Ontario. As in previous years, we are searching for children age 3 months to five years who may be in need of audiology services. Since at present there is no formal program set up to reach members of this age group we would like to enlist your support. You can assist us by publishing this news release thus enabling us to appeal to the parents of this group.

We are attempting to increase the awareness of hearing loss in children and attempting to educate the public about the devastating effects hearing loss can have on the future of a child.

We appreciate your assistance in this matter.

Yours sincerely,
Ellen McKelvie, R.N.,
Clinic Co-ordinator
