New Democrats set Nomination

The race to succeed Jack Stokes in the huge, sprawling riding of Lake Nipigon has begun to heat up. The veteran New Democrat MPP, who has represented the riding for fifteen years, has made clear his intention to retire when the next provincial election is called.

The New Democrats have consistently won Lake Nipigon by some of the largest margins in any riding in the province, but Stokes' retirement has led both the Liberals and the Progressive Conservatives to believe they have a real chance of winning the next time around.

All three parties have been moving high profile political figures into the riding. Last winter New Democrat Leader Bob Rae flew in to speak at a dinner the day after he won his seat in the Legislature in the York-South by-election.

Provincial Treasurer Larry Grossman attended the P.C.'s Mini-Convention in Schreiber last July. While Ontario Liberal Leader David Peterson made an extensive tour of the riding in August, speaking in Nipigon Schreiber and Marathon.

The New Democrats have been the first off the mark to call a Nomination for a candidate to succeed Stokes. They will be meeting on October 2 in Nipigon. Among the names being mentioned as contenders for the Nomination are former Manitowadge Reeve Gilles Pouliot and Terrace Bay Reeve Dave Speer.

Bob Rae will be the Key-note speaker at the Nomination along with Deputy Leader Jim Foulds, the MPP for Thunder Bay's Port Arthur riding.

Riding President John Power said that he was making no bets on who would be the Party's candidate after the October 2 Nomination, and he would not say who he will be personally supporting. "The names being mentioned are very competent, experienced people who have years of successful public service behind them. That means we will be able to offer a strong, able candidate that the voters of Lake Nipigon can put their support behind with confidence."

EDITOR'S NOTE: Upon double-checking this information with Dave Speer, he stated that no, he was not considering any such move.
