(40-50 lbs.) must be secured by a lap belt. If they prefer to be raised so they may look out the window, preschoolers have the option of using a properly buckled up booster seat.

Drivers are responsible for ensuring that all children up to 16 years of age, are either in an appropriate child seat or properly buckled up in lap belts or full seat belts. Older teenagers and adults are responsible for buckling themselves in.

Now everyone from newborns to senior citizens are covered by Ontario's child restraint and seat belt laws.

Home cleaning a blast

Do-it-yourself dry-cleaning is dangerous, states the Ontario Safety League. Spot cleaning clothes with agents such as gasoline before putting them in the washer may be setting the stage for a violent explosion. Even when rinsed thoroughly before washing the clothes can release enough fumes to reach the machine's motor, triggering a blast.

purchasing and installing snow-making equipment for its ski hills at Neebing Township, near Thunder Bay. The equipment will make it possible to extend the skiing season by four to six weeks, according to a recently-completed study.

NORDA has also offered a total of $148,350 to 12 privately-owned tourist lodges in northern Ontario; the funds are all allotted to promotion campaigns to attract more tourists.

NORDA is an $18.5 million federal-provincial agreement. It is intended to help sustain, expand or diversify the economic base of Northern Ontario by helping finance new or expanded economic activities, making use of local resources, and providing employment for local residents.

Of the $18.5 million, $17 million is shared equally by Canada and Ontario. The remaining $1.5 million is earmarked to provide special assistance to Northern Ontario's status Indians. This amount is shared equally by two federal departments: Regional Economic Expansion (DREE), and Indian Affairs and Northern Development (DIAND).

NORDA ends on March 31, 1984; applications under the agreement must be approved by the management committee prior to that date.

Clay Products of New Liskeard. The amount represents 75 per cent of the cost of a marketing and feasibility study on the use of limestone by the mining industry, and the cost of processing, storing and delivering limestone aggregate in the north.
