Heli-pad and Airport Runway dangerous

If you're in this area with your snowmobiles you have better be prepared to suffer the consequences if you are caught by the police.

Certain areas within the town of Terrace Bay are still experiencing problems with snowmobiles. Don Ross, Administrator of the McCausland Hospital, related to the "NEWS" that there are still snowmobiles trespassing on the heli-pad which is situated on hospital property. Damage was recently done to one of the heliport lights, and signs that are posted around the area warning of the potential danger, are being ignored.

Officer Russ Phillips of the Terrace Bay Police Dept. also mentioned that several snowmobilers have been using the airport runway as a ski-doo trail. This again is private property and trespassers will be prosecuted accordingly. The Police are concerned about the noise level created by the snow machines and their inability to hear approaching aircraft when motoring in these specific areas.

If you are one of the guilty mentioned in the above, then please consider yourself forewarned.

Women and Pensions

The Women and Pensions Committee is compiling a series of case histories documenting Northwestern Ontario women's situation in respect to pensions. We are seeking the experiences of full or part-time workers, full-time homemakers, women dealing with widow's pensions, etc. We feel that personal accounts of women's pension experience will more forcefully demonstrate the need for improved legislation, and put a human perspective to the pension debate.

The Women and Pensions Committee is an off-shoot of the NWO Women and Pensions (1982) Conference. The Committee is also developing a response to the Report of the Parliamentary Task Force on Pension Reform, and will present recommendations to our regional politicians regarding the pension concerns of NWO women.

Continued discussion and awareness of pension issues, particularly as they affect women, is a further goal. Representatives of the Women and Pensions Committee will travel to a number of NWO communities in the next several months to meet with interested women.

In Schreiber-Terrace Bay please contact the Community Resource Office for further information - 824-2867.

NWO women are encouraged to contribute to the case history project. Anyone wishing to share their pension story please write: Women and Pensions Committee, Ste. 4, 204 Red River Rd., Thunder Bay, Ontario, P7B 1A4.

Photographer Douglas Spillane of Stratford, Ontario, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Spillane of Schreiber, has been named a fellow of the Professional Photographers of Ontario. This is the highest degree available to photographers in Ontario. Until now, Douglas has had the M.P.A. (Master of Photographic Arts), and was the only photographer in Canada to receive that degree in 1977. Mr. Spillane was born and raised in Schreiber and now resides in Stratford with his wife and two sons.

Women and Stress for Terrace Bay

Organizing a day care co-operative, supporting more community activities, and building better communication skills were three of the solutions put forth at the "Women and Stress: Coping with Northern Living" workshop that was held in Terrace Bay on January 24th.

Approximately 17 women came to the Birchwood Terrace to take part in the two hour workshop. The women were exploring some of the causes of stress for them in Terrace Bay and the group was able to identify such stressors as lack of facilities such as formal day care, alternative education for both children and adults, isolation, and the need for more skills in personal stress release techniques.

Several women expressed an interest in forming a babysitting co-op with an eye towards a formal day care center as a long term goal. Others were interested in gathering together to share skills and discuss a follow-up with a possible film series. Copies of the web chart and solutions will be mailed directly to the participants and if anyone would like additional information, inquiries can be made directly to this office in Thunder Bay.
