Anglican Church supports women priests

Art from the Oven

Here is an exciting and inexpensive way to create your own decorations for home, holidays and gift giving. Everything you need to mould and shape your own works of art is right there in your kitchen. Bread dough sculpture is an age old art form and now has become imaginative and personalized. You will be sculpting figures and dressing them and then applying the finishing touches. This course will be offered Friday, March 30th (7-10 p.m.) and Saturday, March 31st (time to be announced). Please call and register early, to avoid disappointment.

Beginning Woodworking

We did not receive sufficient registration to start this program on Feb. 18, therefore we have postponed the course until March 22-25. This program is for beginners, or those who have some previous experience in Wood Working. All project ideas must have the approval of the instructor ahead of time. We have a selection of Canada Workshop Books available at the Recreation Office for those interested in browsing through them to get ideas and plans. Please call 3542 if you are interested in participating in this program.

Personal Money Management

We are hoping to start this 5 week course as soon as enough names are received. Classes will be held Tuesdays from 7:00 - 9:30 p.m. Please call 3542 if you are interested.

Fitness Programs (Lisa Corrigan)

Lisa Corrigan will be offering 3 different 6 week fitness programs, to help you get in shape for the upcoming Spring/Summer.

Mixed Aerobics (evenings)

Mondays and Wednesdays from 7-8 p.m. in the gym of St. Martin School. This course starts on Monday April 9 and runs for 6 weeks.

Ladies Fitness for age 35 and over (afternoons)

Tuesday and Thursday from 2:30 to 3:00 p.m. starts on Tuesday April 3rd for 6 weeks in the Conference Rooms at the Recreation Centre. (Presently we are only accepting names on a "waiting list" for this course).

4h Quiltettes

The Quiltettes have now completed 3 Quilting samples. The first one we did is called the Traditional Quilting, the second one is called String Quilting and the last one is the Applique Quilting.

The Anglican Diocese of Algoma, which has traditionally been opposed to the ordination of women priests, recently reversed its position. The Right Reverend Les Peterson, Bishop of Algoma, made the unprecedented decision to ordain Miss Susan De Gouchy as a deacon in Sudbury, on May 2, 1984.

The Vestry of St. John North of Superior Parish (for Schreiber, Terrace Bay and Rossport), wrote a letter of congratulations and support to Bishop Peterson and Miss DeGouchy.

More than 80 per cent of all Anglican Dioceses in North America, Australia, New Zealand and Hong Kong now ordain women to the priesthood. Support is growing in Britain and the African countries for the ordination of women as well.

Letters to the editor

Manitouwadge speaks on minor hockey

Dear Madam:

This letter is partly in response to an article that appeared in your paper a few weeks ago regarding some remarks concerning Manitouwadge and Marathon written by one of your staff. I was very upset by that article and feel that your assistant should have gotten some facts straight before printing a story in the paper.

However, I'd like her opinion on the following:

If some Terrace Bay parents are so concerned by the fun their children are having playing hockey, why do we continually have problems with them? Earlier in the season they could not attend a regular North Shore tournament in Manitouwadge because we gave them too short notice. They knew a week in advance of this tournament.

This past weekend we re-scheduled a game from that weekend at their request. After arranging for ice time, timekeepers, officials, etc., we were informed on Friday night at 9:00 p.m. that they couldn't be bothered to travel to Manitouwadge to make up this game because they were in last place and it wouldn't make any difference anyway!! However, the result of that game could have affected the standings for all teams involved.

That's two weekends we rescheduled ice time therefore residents of Manitouwadge lost their public ice time.

My question is - are these people concerned with the enjoyment their children have playing hockey, is this showing good sportsmanship?

Yours very truly;
(An Atom Parent)

Assistant's reply

Dear Mrs. Szydlowski:

I have written two articles on Minor Hockey and I am not sure to which you are referring. The first was the "Opinion" column where I expressed my personal opinion concerning the 3 and 2 minute rules. The second was a report on the executive meeting of the local association. Although many people commented on my opinion, no one has yet questioned my "facts" other than to inform me of the history of the 2 and 3 minute rules, which I was told, have not been used in this area as in Thunder Bay.

My primary purpose in writing the two articles was to let local people know that there is a controversy so that there will be discussion and rectification of the problem.

In regards to your questions regarding the Terrace Bay Minor Hockey Association and your problems with them, I cannot speak for them as I am not directly involved. May I suggest that you express your concerns to your representative of the North Shore Minor Hockey League who can take your problems to a meeting. There, they can hopefully be answered.

Good Luck,
Lynne Badger

Mr. Jack Stokes, M.P.P. Lake Nipigon Queen's Park, Toronto, Ont.

Dear Jack:

I would like to thank you for your letter of December 1, 1983 enclosing a copy of the telegram you received from the Project Mayday Committee concerning the funding of transition houses for battered women in Northwestern Ontario.

My Ministry has been addressing the problem of funding for transition houses in two phases. The first phase involved identifying those house that require immediate assistance to ensure that they do not close because of financial difficulties before the end of the fiscal year. In the second phase, detailed financial information is being obtained from all transition houses primarily for battered women in order to work out a longer term solution to their need for stable funding.

Based on the initial information available from Faye Peterson House in Thunder Bay and the Atikokan Crisis Centre, it appeared these homes were not threatened with imminent closure but would require help in the future. A more detailed examination of their financial situation indicated that some help was needed at once.

I am pleased to inform you that Faye Peterson House has now received a cheque for some $20,000 to cover the period to March 31, 1984. In addition, the sum of $4,000 has been assigned to assist Atikokan Crisis House for the same period.

It is my understanding that it will be necessary for Faye Peterson House to comply with municipal standards concerning zoning, fire safety and health before not been revised since it was enforced.

The delegation felt that the fee should be increased in the neighbourhood of $500.00 as this would attempt to discourage disreputable dealers.

Reeve Speer as well as Councillor Bill Houston felt that this requested increase was quite high and both expressed concern over the fact that the town would be condemning free enterprise. Speer went on to say that free enterprise is endorsed by Terrace Bay and the merchants shouldn't be afraid of out-of-town competition.

Terry Korzinski stated that peddlars don't employ locally, the money they make isn't put back into the community, and also that the peddlars don't have to pay the same amount of business tax that local merchants do. Council pointed out that the average business tax paid in the Simcoe Plaza area ran anywhere from $200-$650 per year - the average business tax was 30 per cent of their assessment and 25 per cent of their market value. Should the peddlars licence fee be increased to $500 they would be charged more than local establishments.

Council felt that it was time to re-evaluate the situation and take steps in increasing the fee. Considering the fact that Council cannot legally interfere in any way or form with free enterprise, the fee will be increased in accordance with the surrounding communities.
