Poet's Corner

The Wonderful Book

There in a corner on a table lay
A wonderful book, once black, now gray.
It was dirty and dusty; the cover torn,
And the pages inside were yellow and worn.

Out of this book, there came a message
Written in red on one darkened page.
The few little words to all mankind
But only one owner had them underlined.

They read all too simply; the words of praise
They were easy to follow, not like a maze.
If only some people had taken time to glance
Half this world might have just had a chance.

But the world never bothered, not even a minute
Very few looked, but there were many that didn't.
So why don't you turn your eyes to the dust covered book
And read those words, just take a look.

Those few words and what they said
Are just what you need for your daily bread.
It said "Let love be your greatest aim."
And remember that's why Jesus came.

District Homes for the Aged Report

The Board of Management of the Thunder Bay District Homes for the Aged arranged a special meeting on Friday, April 28th to finalize the appointment of an Administrator. A selection committee had been designated to review the forty-one applications and to interview the potential candidates. The Board were able to meet with the proposed applicant and review the operation of the Homes.

The successful candidate, Tom Gash, is well known in this field, as he has worked in the City Homes for the Aged. In his present position as Programme Supervisor for the Ministry of Community and Social Services, he works with social agencies in the same Municipalities and Unorganized Areas as the District Homes for the Aged. Present plans have been made for Tom Gash to start on June 15, 1984.

The Board also spent considerable time reviewing Employee Relations. Pinewood Court has two union agreements with the Ontario Nursing Association, C.U.P.E., and both are up for renewal in 1984.

The Board concluded that negotiations are time consuming and costly for a small home. A major concern to the Administrator in being involved in Negotiations and Employee Relations, leaves less time for resident needs, admission care plans and the general operation of Pinewood Court and Birchwood Terrace. The Board decided to investigate the possibility of employing a person to work on Personnel Relations that would alleviate the work load on the Administrator.

The next Board meeting will be held at Birchwood Terrace in Terrace Bay.
