

Your Opinion . . .

We asked, "What was your opinion of the athletes and of Canada at the 1984 summer Olympics?"

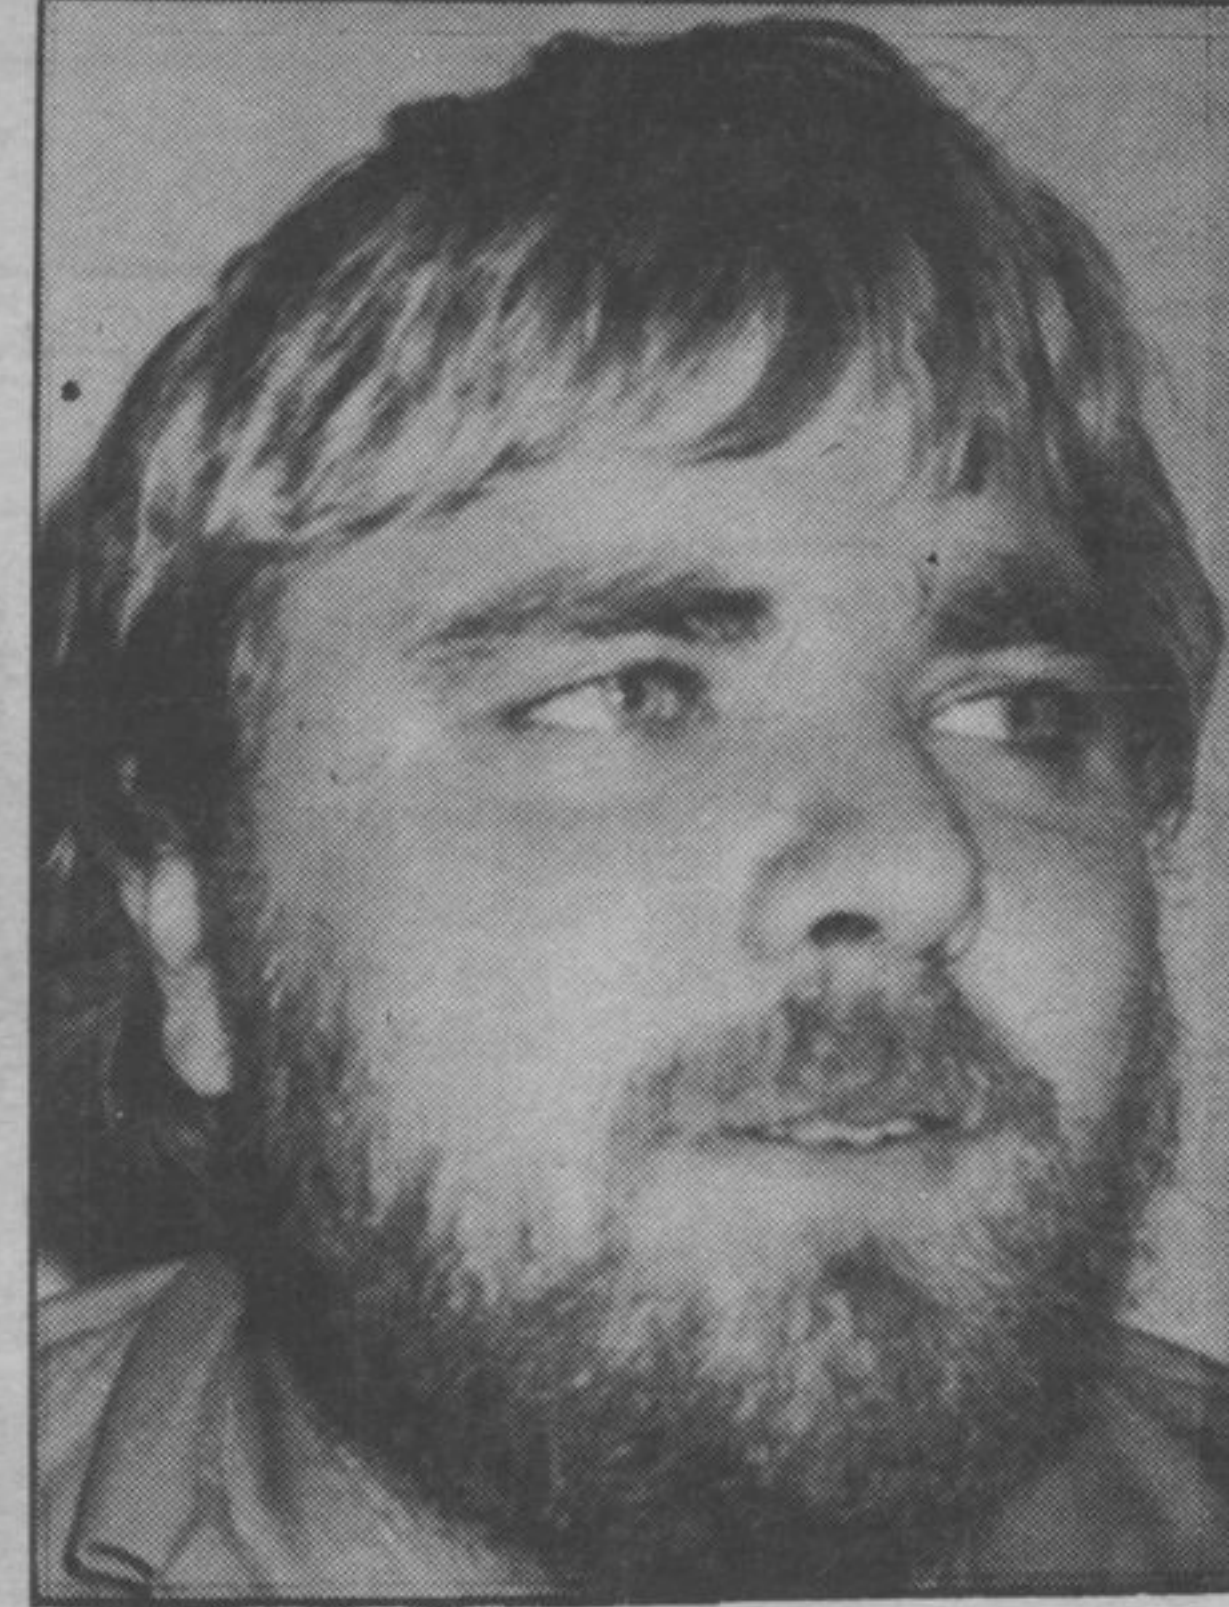

Ken Randle: says he thinks the Olympics are great, but he wishes that they were all on at night or he had a T.V. at work. If the politics were not involved would Canada have as many gold?

Joan LeBlanc: I feel a very proud Canadian. I have not missed a night and it is well televised. Who misses the Russians?

Sandy Scollard: I think everybody should be proud of the Canadians. It seems that a lot of people are not happy with their achievements but this is the best that Canada has ever done in the Olympics. I personally am thrilled with their performance.

Chris Joubert: I think the Olympics are "great!" I feel the athletes would still have accomplished as much personally if not in medals, whether the Soviets were taking part or not.

Guy Desjardins

"I am whole-heartedly behind the statement made by our leader Brian Mulroney on the question of language rights," said P.C. Candidate Guy Desjardins in referring to the Mulroney address in the House of Commons on October 6, 1983, in which the Federal Progressive Conservative

Leader said, "there is no obligation more compelling, no duty more irresistible in Canada than to ensure that all minorities, linguistic and otherwise, live at all times in conditions of fairness and justice." "We can live and have lived this reality of equal opportunity in our region," said Guy Desjardins, "by recognizing that the goal of language guarantees is not to make all Canadians bilingual but by realizing that those persons who wish to do so have the opportunity and the right to use one of Canada's two official languages."
