Are Buses Immune?

The kids out here in Jackfish have been riding in a nice new school bus - with no seat belts. Ever since the government made seat belts mandatory, we have obediently buckled up. Years previously, whatever vehicle the kids rode to school in, they were buckled up. Now babies are buckled in. The government wants to save lives and cut down on highway injuries. I'll go along with that. I want to protect our family. It's also the law!

But not for school buses. There are no belts for the kids to use. Why does the law insist we buckle our kids in our own vehicles? and not in buses? Are buses immune from accidents?

Changes

Things are improving and growing at the Schreiber Public Library. No, not the building, it remains the same. But in many other ways, we're making the library better.

For instance, the children's Story Time has been very well attended. Kelly McGuire, Donna Mikeluk and Billie Ann Saarinen have developed a fun programme with stories, games, songs and finger plays. Everyone seems to have fun and there is always room for a few more. The programme is for children 3-5 and parents can drop the kids at the library at 2:00 p.m. on Thursdays.

To further improve our children's programme, a kind person has donated some toys. We would have them in the library today if we had a toy box. If anyone has a container which could be used as a toy box, please call the library and we'll come to pick it up.

Children's books are always welcome donations. If you have children's books in good condition please consider giving them to the library. We also need crayons, markers and anything with which kids can have fun.

But we haven't only thought about the children. We've done our best to improve things for our adult patrons too. Sorting and weeding the shelves have made it much easier to find things in the library. This process isn't complete yet but we're advancing every week. Even our vast collection of Harlequin Romances has been reorganized and displayed in a way which makes it easy to find that special one you missed.

Remember, membership in the library is free and so are the pocket books we can lend you.

We have some interesting new books about Christmas crafts. They might have a project in them to make your home a more festive place this yuletide season. And our many cookbooks might have that special recipe your family will want to make part of their Christmas tradition.

Come in and browse; we have a book about almost everything!

The Library Board has also approved certain fund-raising projects. One is the Schreiber Heritage Booklet. Each copy of this booklet earns a small amount for the library. Send one out in your Christmas card to that Schreiber person who's moved elsewhere. Another excellent Christmas gift is the book "A Vast and Magnificent Land!" It is a pictorial history of Northern Ontario with many pictures, maps and documents. It's on sale from Lakehead University and order forms can be picked up from Billie Ann at the library. The library makes small commission each of our order forms sent to L.U. It's the ideal gift for anyone with interest in Northern Ontario.

April and Susan (from Mr. Dressup CBC) are having a children's concert at the library Thursday Nov. 15 7:00. Please come and bring your child if they are ages 4 to
