Project Mayday Receives Funds

Project Mayday has received additional funding from CEIC (Canada Employment and Immigration Centre) under a Canada Works grant to expand the base of the current Mayday in the Community project which has been in progress since November 1984. Mayday in the Community has been researching women's lives in single industry towns through a technique called participatory research.

The additional Canada Works employees will work more actively in the communities holding two or three public meetings centred around general trends from the Mayday in the Community research project, as well as promoting women's issues and cataloguing women's issues materials in local libraries.

With the completion of the confidential interview phase of the research project, Project Mayday wishes to raise awareness of it in all five communities of Manitowadge, Marathon, Terrace Bay, Schreiber, and Rossport. Any woman who has a genuine concern about women's issues is asked to take part in building local Mayday committees. For more information in Schreiber call Anne-Marie LeGrand; in Terrace Bay Carol Quesnelle and in Rossport: Mary Burnett.

Through public community meetings, Project Mayday hopes to better meet the needs and enhance the experience of living and participating in the community for all women. The Canada Works people will be providing a real injection of fresh spirit and energy to the research project as they get into full swing to help Project Mayday truly become Mayday in the Community.

Magnus Theatre to set Thunder Bay on Fire

On April 11, 1985, Magnus Theatre will unveil the World Premiere of the evangelic rock musical Fire by Paul Ledoux and David Young. Created by the team that captured the national imagination with the premiere of I Love You Anne Murray last April, Fire is an exploration of the instincts that gave birth to both the early rock-a-billy music of the 1950's and the marriage of Christian fundamentalism and politics in the 1980's.

Like the hit recordings that have influenced all our lives Fire is divided into sides. Side A (Act 1) takes place in the years 1957-1961 and tells of the meteoric rise and fall of Cale Blackwell (Peter Willson). Cale is a young man who temporarily breaks out of his Baptist upbringing by playing what his conscience says is "Satan's" music and what we have come to know as Rock and Roll.

Side B (Act 2) takes place in the years 1978-80 and follows the life of Herschell Blackwell (Jerry Franken), Cale's brother and a man equally as devoted to putting Jesus into the hearts of millions as his brother was to singing the praises of the evil. Herschell does this each Sunday through the medium of the 'electronic pulpit', his power becoming so strong that he is actually in a position to determine the outcome of a Senatorial election.

The inspiration for both of these men has come through their shared love of Molly King (Janet Land), and it is her personal struggle to come to terms with Jesus that moves the story along to its powerful and moving end. Combining early rock and roll hits such as Good Golly Miss Molly and rousing evangelistic numbers such as I Saw The Light, Fire promises to be as entertaining and exciting as it is thought provoking.

Fire runs from April 11-27, contact Magnus Theatre for more information.
