Terrace Bay

Basic Communications - CS 101

A developmental approach to reading and writing skills employing modular and direct reading techniques. This course is a basic prerequisite for all diploma and part time certificate courses at the college.

Child Psychology PY 105

A study of human development from conception to age six. Emphasis will be on socialization and personality development during the years of early childhood.

Terrace Bay Recreation Department Programs:

English as a second language: This class is open to anyone who wishes to learn to read and write English. Proper pronunciation of the English words will be stressed. The dates and times for this course will be determined upon sufficient registration.

Pre-Retirement Planning: How can I be financially secure when I retire? What do I do with my time? What is available for me now that I am not working? How do I get involved? All these questions will be answered for you by registering for this course. This class will be presented in Terrace Bay pending sufficient registration.

We will be commencing to organize our programs for after the New Year. We would like to receive suggestions for new courses from you the public. Please give us a call with your ideas and we will try to get a program going.

Ringette Jamboree:

The North Shore Director's Ringette Jamboree is scheduled for November 8th, 9th and 10th in Nakina. The Terrace Bay Ringette Association will need chaperones to accompany the girls to Nakina. We are calling on some of the Parents of these girls to come forward and agree to accompany these girls to Nakina. We need at least 3 or 4 chaperones. The Ringette Association are also in need of coaches. If you can help out in any way, please contact Carolyn Waldenberger or the Recreation Office.

Women's Squash League:

There has been a desire expressed that women's Squash League be formed. We will be taking names of all those women interested in joining this league. The same rule will apply as for the men's league. Call the Recreation Office at 3542 and register today.

Confederation College Outreach Programs:

We would like to have more registration for the two Outreach programs that will be presented in Terrace Bay by Confederation College.

Writing awards of up to $10,000 each are being offered by the Canadian government next year to five authors who can best deliver non-fiction manuscripts on Canada.

These sought-after pieces are not in the travel writing category, however. They have to cover Canadian social, political, cultural or economic studies, studies of Canada as a northern nation.

studies on professional education or science curriculum in a Canadian context.

While the subject matter will probably discourage most would-be novelists, it does leave the field open to researchers, scholars and textbook writers.

The resultant manuscripts, which have to be of publishable quality, must be written to be understood by the well-informed layperson, and by students at the undergraduate university level.

The awards are being offered by the Canadian Studies Program of the Department of the Secretary of State of Canada. The program is now in its third year.

Applicants must provide an outline, limited to three
