Falconbridge Project halted

Toronto, November 1, 1985 — Corporation Falconbridge Copper announced today it is suspending development of its Winston Lake zinc property near Schreiber in Northwestern Ontario, where ore reserves of 2,177,000 tonnes grading 18 per cent zinc and 1 per cent copper have been delineated.

This decision was made because of sharply deteriorating zinc prices combined with higher smelter charges which result in substantially reduced revenue for the mine. These adverse conditions are caused in part by the anticipated reactivation of a major Yukon zinc producer.

In September, the Company announced its decision to bring the Winston Lake property into production at a cost of $52.5 million on the assumption that current zinc surpluses would be absorbed by 1987.

Work already commissioned will be completed. Further development is postponed until an improvement takes place in the supply-demand balance of zinc.

North Shore Women's Conference

by MARILYN MoQUIN

On October 25, 26, and 27th Terrace Bay hosted the North Shore Women's Conference resulting from Project Mayday which was established May, 1982.

The Conference was held at St. Martin's Church. There were approximately 65 women registered. The women came from the surrounding areas of Schreiber, Ear Falls, Manitowadge, Marathon, Thunder Bay and Rosspport.

They came to support and share information regarding the women in the North Shore Communities meeting their needs to better the quality of life for all residents.

The organization's main objectives are to increase the capacity of women to participate fully in improving the status of their lives by: involving women in defining the needs of their community as they relate to women and finding ways of meeting these needs; developing a support network for women living in isolated communities; educating the public with respect to women's issues and lobbying for the services and policy changes necessary to improve women's lives.

On Friday there was registration. The Welcome Remarks were by, Mary Burnett, Chairperson Project Mayday; Joy Fedoruk, N. Ont. Officer, Women's Directorate. Diana Ellis, Consultant of the B.C. Women's Research Centre was the Keynote Speaker. Also in attendance were Keith Penner, M.P. and Gilles Pouliot, MPP. A wine and cheese reception followed.

On Saturday, Rev. Bill Major, Director, Pastoral Institute of Sudbury spoke on Men On Top - The Bedroom and the Economy. This was followed by a panel presentation of Women's Lives in Single Industry Towns by the Researchers; Karen Kusins, Judy van den Ende, Pam McKeever and Carol Quesnelle.

There were a variety of workshops such as: Family Law, Assertiveness Training, Coping with Unemployment, Lobbying, Town Planning, Self Esteem, Women and Economic Development and many others, there was a film festival, dinner and later entertainment by Heather Bishop and Tracy Riley.

On Sunday there were more workshops, lunch and then a Plenary Session and closing. The workshops were thoroughly enjoyed, and the overall response was positive.

The North Shore Women's Conference was sponsored by Project Mayday with financial support provided by: The Ontario Women's Directorate and The Secretary of State.
