

'Snow' pitch champs

The Deadheads, shown above, had no problem with the squad fielded by Recreation, as they defeated them 11-4 in the final of the Schreiber Mixed Slow Pitch Championships held on March 9 as part of the town's Winter Carnival.

Bits and Bites

by Helene Ballard
Hello! If this snow keeps on, we won't know if we should say "Happy Easter" or "Merry Christmas." I sure hope spring comes soon because I, for one, am tired of this white stuff.

It has been another slow week. Many of our residents are still "Hors de Combat" ... that's French for "Out of order." Those of us who made it down to the dining room for our meals looked like we were sent for and could not come. However, if the weather can clear up, I know we will all feel better.

I would, at this time, like to say a word about the drivers of snowmachines. These past two weeks have been so much better ... no more noise after 11 p.m., and just one or two have driven through the back of Birchwood after midnight. I know we can all come to a very nice understanding of each other if we try.

Please understand, I don't want to take your winter sport away from you, but I am sure you know how all that noise can upset folks, so let me say thank you for your co-operation.

We had a nice surprise visit last night from a former resident of Terrace Bay. Mr. and Mrs. Rolly Sinotee were in town for a few days. We had a nice chat with Jeanne while Rolly was at a meeting. It was so nice to see them looking so well.

I hope things perk up so I'll have more to write about next time. Until then, a bit of advice: "Never point your finger at people; remember, there is a nail on the end of it." So long.

Terrace Bay Police Report

Terrace Bay Police Report, March 8 to 14

Police attended McCausland Hospital to assist with travel arrangements for a patient being discharged.

Police were requested to attend a local filling station where a traveller was attempting to cash a cheque for gas. The suspect was found to be without funds and Welfare Assistance was given. Care should be taken when unknown people attempt to cash personal cheques outside normal bank hours.

Police have been notified that there have been some sightings of wolves in the Townsite. However, upon investigating of the various areas in question, they were unable to locate any wolves. The MNR have also been advised and should be notified if any further sightings occur.

There was one Motor Vehicle Accident investigated this past week. It was a single vehicle accident involving damages of approximately $1800.

Two separate incidents of dangerous driving were reported to Police and a possible Impaired Driver travelling through the Township was reported to the OPP for their observation.

At present Terrace Bay Police are investigating a complaint from a local businessman regarding forgery of cheques. Charges will be laid pending confirmation of suspect's whereabouts.

Block Parents:
Excuses for not becoming a Block Parent!

a) I work all day.
Even if you can help for a few hours each week you would be of value.

b) I am not a parent.
No one should stop caring about the safety of children and other adults. Retired people and single people may certainly be block parents.

c) I'll always help, sign or not.
Let the little ones know it!

Most children are taught to be wary of strangers, but that a Block Parent has been checked out by Police.

d) I don't want to open my door to strangers.

Naturally, if a hurt or frightened child seeks the assistance of a block parent, sanctuary would be offered. However, it is not necessary to allow strangers in your home. All that is required is for the parents or proper authorities to be contacted.

e) There are enough Block Parents homes on our block already.

The more block parent homes there are, the better protection. Large numbers are required as some block parents may only be available during a small part of each day or week.

Block Parents care — do you? Be a Block Parent too.

Correction

In the March 12 issue of the Terrace Bay-Schreiber News, the column titled "Hospital Highlights" began with the words "Terrace Bay's McCausland Hospital". This statement was meant to show where the hospital is located, and should not be interpreted as meaning that the hospital only covers Terrace Bay.
