Squash clinic to be held in town

The sport of squash is a great way to work yourself into excellent physical and mental condition. Squash will be highlighted at the Recreation booth at the Fall Fair on September 14.

Drop by then and find out about the game and register for the free clinic which will be held the same evening. This clinic will be conducted by people from Fitness Ontario of Thunder Bay. Squash is a popular year-round activity that is very inexpensive to participate in.

You know you are overweight: when you're lying on the beach and two guys from Greenpeace try to throw you back in; when the chair gets up when you do; when your insurance agent offers you a group rate; when your designer jeans are by Orson Welles.

Fitness Room

Rubber flooring will be placed in this area in the near future. For any inconvenience this many cause, we apologize.

Swimming Pool

The swim program and the pool came to a close for another season on August 29. The pool reached record highs in participation in lessons, and we believe this was accomplished by the effort and dedication of our full summer pool staff consisting of Nina, B.J., Karen, Jody, and Dan.

Thanks are also extended to the relief staff of Miriam Chisholm and Lisa Fournier. Thanks for an excellent summer.

Tot Lot

The "Happy Gang," as they are referred to around the office, conducted the Wind-Up and Fun Day which completed an excellent summer program for children aged four to 12.

The enrollment in this program also reached a high, and we thank our staff for retaining interest throughout the summer.

Janet Chappel, Susan Boucher, Heather Lohnes, and Cathy Olaveson: thank you and, who knows, perhaps we can invite you back for a fourth year.

Frisbee Fun

Grant awarded

Schreiber will receive almost $16,000 under the Ministry of Tourism and Recreation's Capital Program for New Recreation Facilities, a Ministry news release has announced.

Almost 200 other municipalities or groups in the province were allocated funds for their projects, the release noted. A commitment of $15 million was made when the program was announced earlier in the year, and groups were invited to apply for grants.

Schreiber's application for $10,764 to purchase an ice resurfacer for its arena was approved, as was its request for $5,102 to install a playground at the Holy Angels School.

Groups in Thunder Bay, Red Rock, Atikokan, Marathon, Sioux Lookout, Nakina, Geraldton, Longlac, and Beardmore were also awarded grants.

The release explained that the program provides support for the development of new and innovative sports, fitness, and recreational facilities across Ontario.

Those applying for the funding had to effectively demonstrate their ability to meet the program's principles regarding financing and public accessibility.

John Eakins, Ontario Minister of Tourism and Recreation, said in the release that "changing patterns of work and leisure, an aging population and the increased significance of recreation for personal and community well-being are increasing the need for services and facilities."

Thunder Bay was the region's major recipient under the program, receiving $300,000 to aid in the construction of a new community centre.

In the rest of Northwestern Ontario, 52 other new recreational facilities will be constructed from a total allocation of $2.3 million, the August 22 release noted.
