

Terrace Bay crew takes first place at Regatta

By Colleen Kenney

Rosspport held its fourth annual Regatta in conjunction with the Thunder Bay Yacht Club on August 2 and 3.

An exciting lunch rendezvous took place on Saturday in Old Man's Pocket. An excellent smorgasbord dinner was provided by the Recreation Committee and local Women of Rosspport that evening at the Rosspport Community Hall.

Guest Jim Chappel of the Ministry of Natural Resources in Terrace Bay gave an informative talk on the Slate Islands proposed park plans. Ray Kenney of Rosspport showed the film of the "Guinelda" along with some history of the sunken ship.

The door prize donated by Kenney's Marine was won by Cathy Spadoni and the raffle was won by Ed Zwaresh.

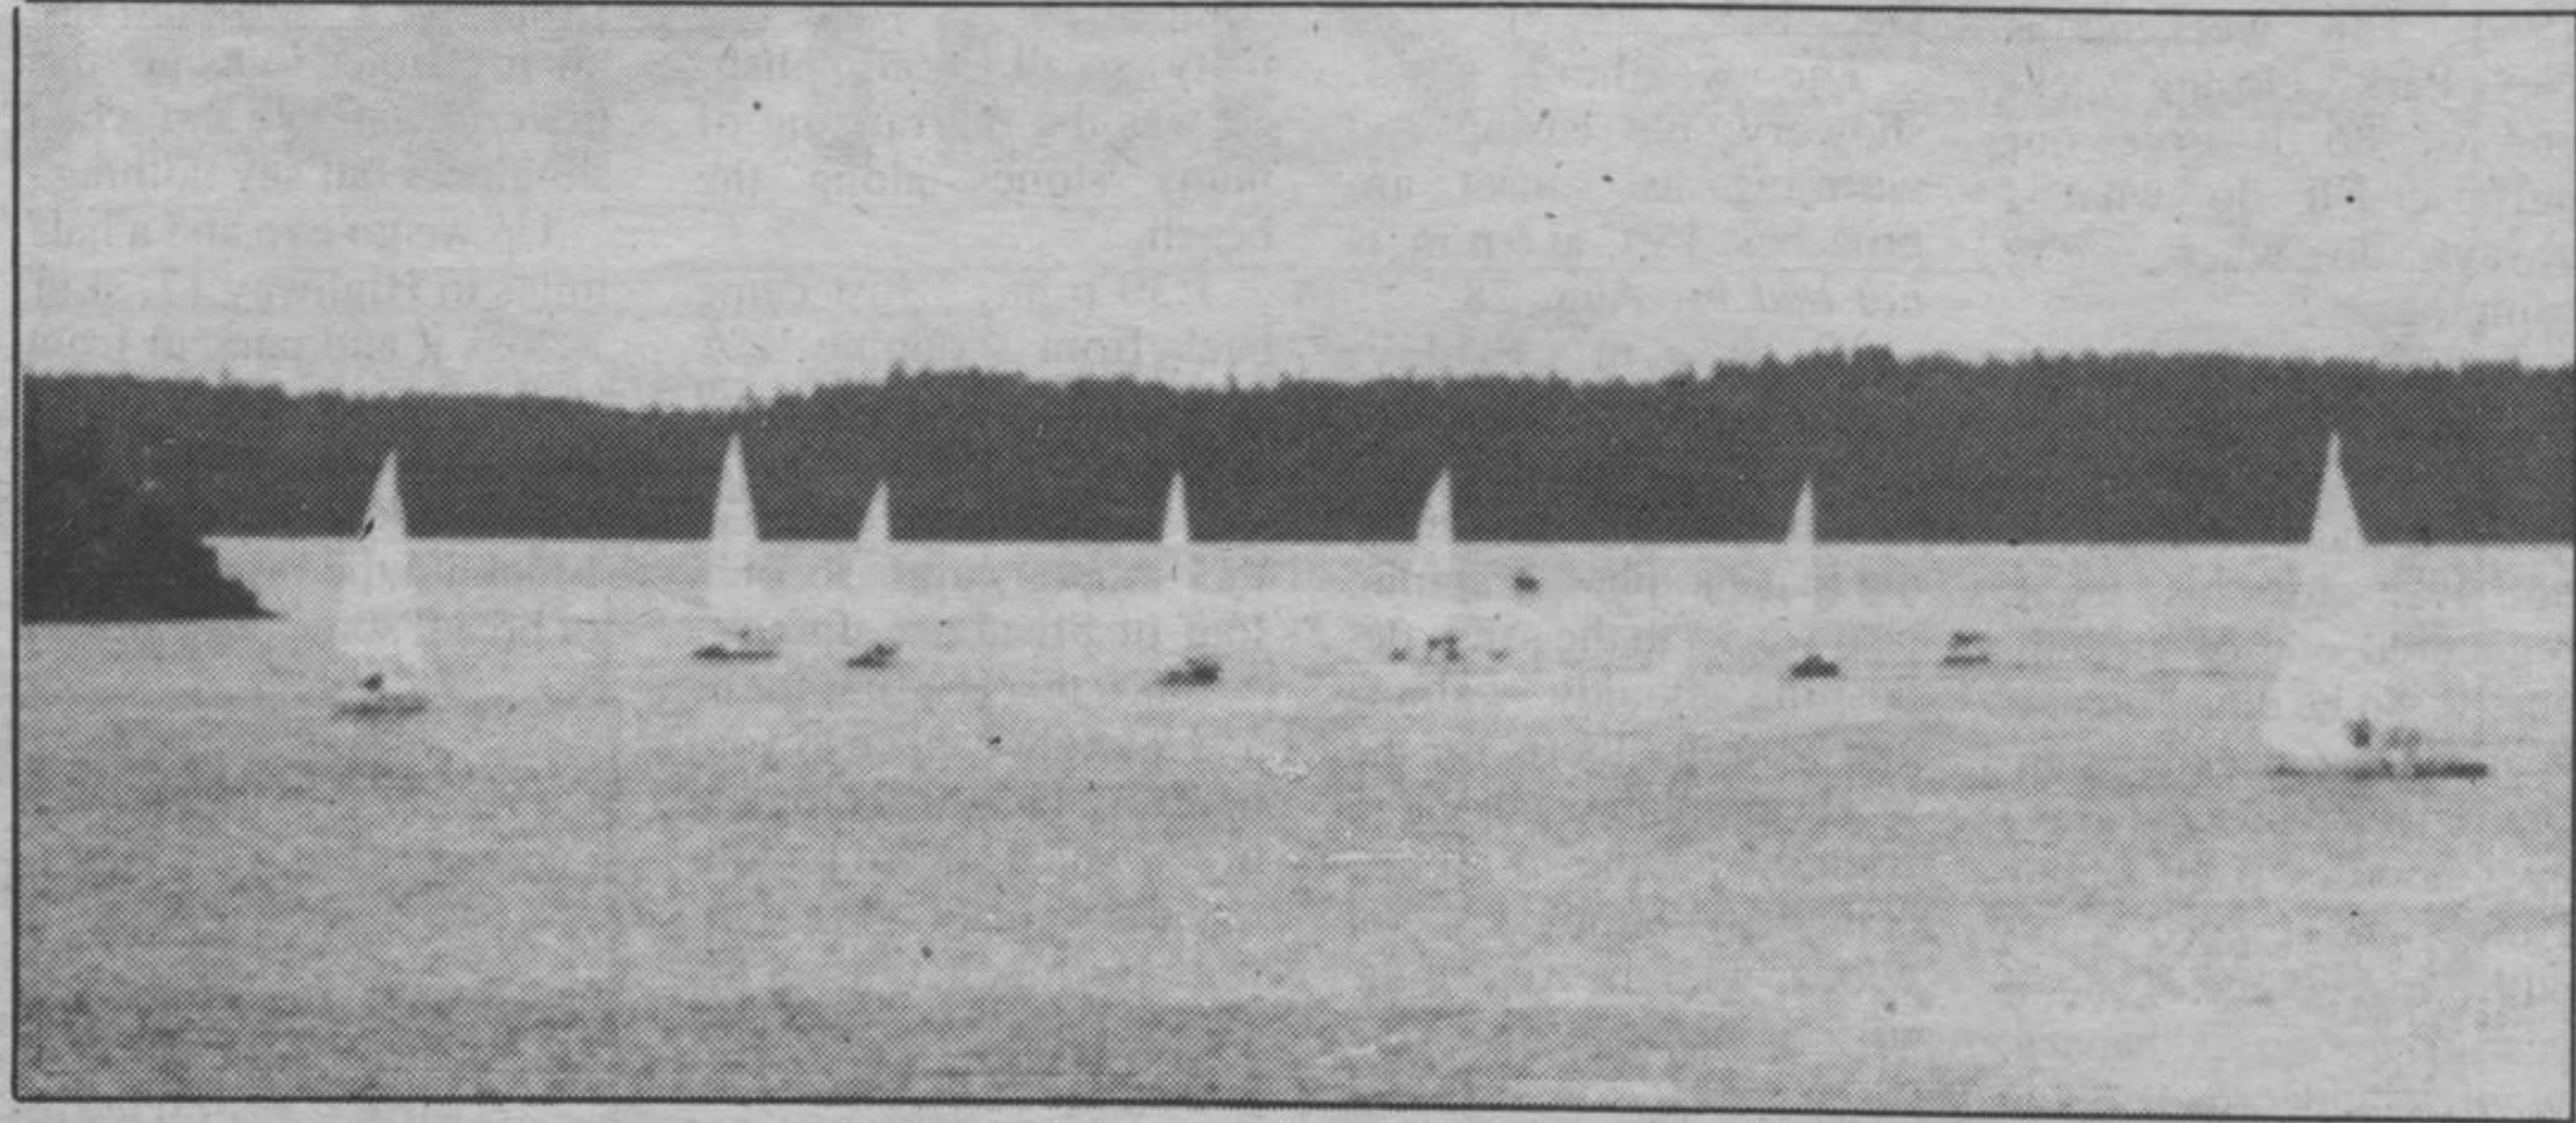

On Sunday the boaters sailed around Battle Island in Lake Superior and then returned to Rosspport.

The first, second, and third prizes were donated by Olav and Judy Sundland of the Forget-Me-Not Gift Shop in Rosspport. First prize was awarded to Les Graham and crew of the "Haumoana" from Terrace Bay.

Second prize went to "Polar Star II" and Jim and Bonnie Dawe of Thunder Bay, and Ted and Sirkka Creagh's "The Lady." Third prize was awarded to Walter and Dolly Sitko of Terrace Bay and their entry "Golden Nugget."

The Sundland Trophy was awarded to Ted and Sirkka Creagh and "The Lady" for best performance. The Sitting Duck Trophy was a tie, going to both the "Stephen Leacock" and "Maaja" Brian Cox and crew.

Council busy

Terrace Bay Reeve Ollie Chapman and the rest of Township Council are going to be very busy individuals for the rest of this month, with meetings set for almost every day and sometimes at the same time on the same day.

Because of that busy schedule, Reeve Chapman will have to miss a meeting she has been looking forward to for a long time, she told the News last week.

On September 25, the long-awaited public meeting to discuss senior citizens housing in town will be held, but on the same night, Reeve Chapman will be attending an important series of workshops and seminars on threatened single industry towns in Sudbury.

"I don't really want to do this," she admitted, but added that in light of the recent Kimberly-Clark layoffs in town, she decided to attend the Sudbury session to gather information on similar situations.

Councillor Jim Ziegler will be the chairman of the seniors housing public meeting in her place.

Reeve Chapman will also be one of several Northwestern Ontario Municipal Association delegates to meet with the Premier of Ontario, David Peterson, and his Cabinet in Thunder Bay this week.

Then she will stay in Thunder Bay for the next two days, September 11 and 12, to attend an annual planning meeting. Last weekend she went to the Thunder Bay District Municipal League meeting held in Longlac.

A special meeting of the Heads of Council Committee was also held in Longlac on September 5, and Reeve Chapman attended it as well. She will be returning to Longlac next week for the North of Superior Development Council meeting to be held there.

She explained that an Ad Hoc Committee of Council members and representatives from local 665 of the United Paperworkers International Union has been formed, and the first meeting of that group, formed following the Kimberly-Clark mill layoffs, was held on September 9.

Then on September 18, Council will meet with several provincial Ministry representatives, including the Deputy Minister of Northern Development and Mines.

On September 29, the first joint meeting of Terrace Bay Council and Schreiber Council will take place in Schreiber, Reeve Chapman noted.

"People should be made aware of the work Councils do," she said. Regular meetings of Terrace Bay Township Council are held the second and fourth Mondays of each month.

Keep caboose

At its annual conference in Toronto on August 26, the Association of Municipalities of Ontario (AMO), of which both Terrace Bay and Schreiber are members, passed a "strongly worded" resolution opposing the application by CN Rail and CP Rail to remove cabooses from trains.

According to a United Transportation Union news release, the 1,300 delegates at the conference spoke out against recent proposals to replace manned caboose with an End-of-Train-Information-System (ETIS), citing safety as a major concern.

The MPP for Schreiber and Terrace Bay, Gilles Pouliot, has also spoken out against the ETIS units. In a letter to the federal Minister of Transport, John Crosbie, Pouliot said he is "highly skeptical" of the effectiveness of the ETIS and called for public hearings across Canada.

Dave McDuffe, Canadian Legislative Representative for the United Transportation Union said he was pleased with the outcome of the AMO vote.

"This is a tremendous victory for railway safety in this country," he was quoted as saying in the UTU release. "The elected municipal representatives of Ontario recognize that the public wants to be protected from the possibility of future tragic derailments."

The UTU was at the AMO conference, providing delegates with up-to-date information on issues relating to railway safety. The union is conducting a national campaign to keep the caboose on Canada's railways. Its slogan is "Trains are safer with a caboose."

The UTU's head office is in Ottawa.
