Bits and Bites

By Helene Ballard

Hello! Yep, I'm back at Birchwood Terrace, and so I'll try and get a short column out. I would like to thank all of you nice people who came to visit me in the hospital and for your phone calls. It's nice to know you have friends who care. Thank you.

While I was away, three new residents arrived at Birchwood: Barbara Zurawski, Wallace Avery, and Lauri Jarvi. We welcome them and hope they enjoy their stay here at the home.

The hard-working ladies of the Birchwood Auxiliary were hostesses for a very enjoyable Halloween Party. Some of them were dressed in real funny costumes which added to the fun of the party.

We were treated to the music of Yvon Parise along with George Jean and Gordie Benoit. One of our residents, Mr. Bill Dodds, had a great time playing for us when he joined the band with his violin.

The ladies served a very nice buffet lunch which was enjoyed by all. A nice sing-a-long was part of the evening. On behalf of all the residents, I would like to thank our Ladies Auxiliary for all their hard work and kindness.

Sylvia, our activities lady, has asked me to please ask all of our friends who have been bringing us egg cartons that we are now well supplied. When the need arises again, I'll ask for more. In the meantime, no more egg cartons, and our thanks to you for your donations. And now:

A young man of the cloth was travelling on a bus trying to read a book, when a young man who was very drunk sat in the empty seat next to the minister and proceeded to become very noisy. The minister stood this as long as he could and then said "Young man, you are drunk, please be quiet." "Oh year?" replied the man. "Well, if I'm drunk then you're crazy...you've got your collar on backwards!"

Until next time, bon jour.
