C.W.L. convention major event for all involved

By Ken Lusk

The 34th Annual Catholic Women's League Diocesan Convention was held in Terrace Bay last week and was truly a success.

It also celebrated 35 years for the St. Martin Parish of the C.W.L. as a Parish Council.

At the formal opening last Tuesday, Hostess President of the convention, Sharyn Legall, implored all gathered to unite during this special time.

Father Campbell, host spiritual director, then addressed those convened and said that in all his 30 years in the Diocesan, this was the first time he has hosted such a convention.

Preparation for the convention has "been a challenge-meeting after meeting after meeting," said Campbell.

He praised the hard-working convention committee and wished all a happy and successful convention.

The Diocesan President, Joleene Kemp, said that the theme of the convention, "Our Stewardship in Church Renewal", would hopefully result in "awareness in ourselves. Peace and joy," she told those present.

Diocesan Spiritual Director Father E.T. Kennedy, who will be leaving his position as spiritual director, said he hoped the convention would assist in a push toward piety, love, and love of one another. He wished "peace and unity" to all there.

Most Reverend John O'Mara D.D., Bishop of Thunder Bay, said the convention is an occasion to come to know and understand sharing in the Church. He said the convention could serve as "the impetus to responsibility for renewal in the Diocesan."

Next in greeting were welcomes by people from the local community.

Minister Ernie Hunt, on behalf of the Community Church in Terrace Bay and St. Andrew's in Schreiber, said this was the first time he has had the pleasure of attending such a large group in the Terrace Bay area.

He said the convention showed a great spirit "that can't be equalled."

It is good to say, he said, to wish you all "best wishes and a successful convention-my blessing."

In absence of Terrace Bay

Reeve Ollie Chapman, Counc. Bill Houston said it was a pleasure to attend. "Enjoy and remember us and the community when you leave," he said.

Terrence Bay Counc. George Ramsay addressed the conveners in the absence of Superior-Cochrane M.P. Keith Penner. On behalf of Penner, Ramsay gave thanks for the invitation and said that the House of Commons realizes the good work of the C.W.L.- "it is of the greatest importance," Ramsay said.

MPP for Lake Nipigon Gilles Pouliot wished all well in their deliberation. He was thankful for the invitation to the convention where there are "friendly faces and voices. There is no other place I would rather be," he said.

History

Dolores Morriveau, past president and general convener of the convention, told the News that nationally, there are over 125,000 members in the C.W.L. and provincially, over 72,000.

There is a diocesan membership of 3,955 members and 4 levels of the C.W.L.- parish level, diocesan, provincial and national.

Test your survival skills in this game- Superior Survival Game

Terrace Bay resident Mac Rogerson has finalized plans for his survival game which is now entitled Superior Survival Game.

Rogerson told the News he has acquired land-use tenure from the Ministry of Natural Resources for a trial basis for the summer.

He said the location is off the airport road on the northeast branch of gravel road.

"It's going to be a good course," Rogerson said. "It has an open pit, high grass and small brush. There are two courses. An open field and a closed bush course."

The open field course will have less protection. "There is a lot more skill involved. There aren't as many places to hide," said Rogerson.

Rogerson believes he and his game now have better access to the public.

He is hoping to get more people from Schreiber and Rosspport to play the game this year.

He said a lot of people are phoning him about the game so for this reason Rogerson is confident of having a good season.

Rogerson will officially be taking appointments starting today.

Grand opening special

To celebrate the opening of his game, Rogerson is having a grand opening special. During the Victoria Day weekend, it will be half the normal cost to play the game for persons who have never played it before.

Rogerson will be booking teams of five but if team of 10 applies, he will take the booking.

The regular price to play will pay for the first 30 rounds, one sealed tube cartridge, the pistol rental and camouflage clothing (optional).

Rogerson said this year he will require a $50 dollar deposit for teams of five that book. This is due to people not showing up. Rogerson said this happened last year.

Rogerson will be running evening games from 6-9 p.m. during the week and anytime on the weekends.

He will also take full-day bookings if people want to play that long (8-hour games). The minimum game-length is three hours long.

Rogerson told the News that after a couple of weeks operating the game, he will again start the "King of the Hill" challenge for any teams wishing to be competitive.

"Catch the Flag" will be the test-the team that wins three out of five games becomes "King of the Hill". If they play another game against challengers and win, all games that team plays after that are free for

"There is no choice"- Beaulieu Longlac mayor hopeful for the future of mill

By Ken Lusk

Renald Beaulieu, mayor of Longlac, told the News that when the Kimberly-Clark sawmill closes on May 15, 80 per cent of Longlac's workforce will be unemployed.

He said that at present, there is one interested party in buying the sawmill but that nothing is official. He is positive though that the mill will be sold.

Beaulieu said the community realizes a different approach must be taken to see what can be done to save the sawmill. Approximately 100 workers will be laid off when the sawmill shuts down on May 15. This number includes truck drivers and about 59 workers in the sawmill itself Beaulieu said.

"It is serious," he said.

Beaulieu noted that it could be year-or more before anything gets rolling but he is hopeful someone will take over the mill.

He added that the atmosphere in Longlac at this time is of concern. He said that although many who will lose their jobs are near retirement age, there are many younger people.
