

Souvenir Booklet

Notice to History Buffs

There are still a few copies of the Rosspport Fish Derby Souvenir Booklet "In Celebration of a Classic". The booklet has photos of derbies gone by (back to 1937) as well as information on its beginnings. Many of the photos no doubt have faces that you will recognize! If you wish a booklet, they are $5 each and are available from Judi Sundland at 824-2834, or directly from the Forget-Me-Not Gift Shop. All proceeds go towards next year's derby.

THANK YOU

BORUTSKI- The family of the late Tom Borutski wish to thank all who helped us through our time of sorrow. Special thanks to Father Francis, Father Campbell, Brother Mark, Senoir Choir and King Funeral Home. Thank you to Gloria Mullins and Kay Furyk and workers for the lovely lunch arranged and served after the service and at the house. Thanks to all who sent baking, food, private donations, flowers, sympathy cards, lent cars, and phoned to offer their help. Thanks to the active and honorary pall bearers.

We will never forget your thoughtfulness!
God Bless you all!
Isabelle, Ken, David, Margaret, Ed, Irene Borutski and families.

Writer responds to Michael Moore concerning story

in addition to promoting the wonderful experience of the "Circle Tour", I have added a little to the consciousness of its problems and the need for solution.

"When I return to Thunder Bay in September, I will send you a copy of my letter to Minister Bradley. I am, and always have been, your ally.

sincerely,
Joan Skelton.

Futures to provide a chance

A new Futures which offers unemployed young people a chance to go back to school for half a day and work for the other half, was announced in Toronto on July 27.

Gregory Sorbara, Minister of Skills Development, says the new Futures option offers "second chance to unemployed young people who want to go back to school.

"A core of employment-disadvantaged youths exists, despite the economic upswing and the increasing number of job opportunities in the province. Lack of formal and basic education plays a large role in their problems. It affects their job stability and advancement. Nearly 45 percent of the young people between 15 and 24, in today's full-time workforce do not have a high school diploma."

"Tackling the problem of both youth unemployment and a high dropout rate from secondary school has been a priority for the Ontario government. The Ministry of Skills Development has worked closely with the Ministry of Education and the result is the part-time work/part-time school option. It is the first time such a program has been offered in Canada."
